Nationalists Quit Strategic Islands

Tachen Islands beaches now are deserted and demolition-seared. Chinese Nationalists, protected by the mighty U.S. 7th Fleet, completed a bloodless withdrawal early this afternoon, Victoria time. Nothing has been left standing for Chou En-Lai's Communists.

PLEA FAILS—DEATH PENALTY STAYS

Chuter Ede Doubts Guilt Of Man He Sent to Gallows

LONDON (UP)—The House of Commons voted Thursday night to continue capital punishment in Britain despite an emotional appeal by James Chuter Ede, who said he may have sent an innocent man to the gallows seven years ago.

Chuter Ede, schoolmaster, former leader of the House and Laborite home secretary, joined other Socialists in asking for a five-year period without capital punishment. But the House overrode his plea, 245 to 214.

The man Chuter Ede allowed to be hanged was Timothy Evans, 25, charged with murdering his wife and baby. He died for the second crime, but all Britain was filled with doubt when John Reginald Christie, the mass murderer of Nottingham Gate, confessed five years later he killed Mrs. Evans.

CHUTER EDE

Filled With Doubt

Chuter Ede was one of those filled with doubt. He made it clear in the House of Commons when he recalled the hanging of Evans and the confession of Christie that she was one of six women he strangled and sealed in a wall of his house or buried under a flowering bush in his backyard.

"I was the home secretary who wrote on Evans' papers 'the law must take its course,'" Chuter Ede said as he began his plea for dropping the death penalty.

The usual bustle of the Chamber stopped. Members froze in their seats and papers stopped rattling.

"If ever there was a clear case when the papers came on to my table that a man was guilty, it was the case of Evans," he said.

"Evans was found guilty of the murder of his infant daughter. He was charged at the same time with the murder of his wife, but since he had been found guilty on the first, the second case was never heard.

"He had protested that the man who had murdered his wife was the other man (Christie) living in the house. The evidence was overwhelmingly against Evans.

"But then, years afterward, six women's bodies were found in that house and the other man admitted to the murder of these six women."

He paused and drew a deep breath before he continued.

Facts Not Known

"If these facts had been known to the jury at the time they might perhaps have found Evans guilty of murder in conjunction with Christie. I doubt if they could have found Evans guilty in other circumstances."

His face flushed as he said:

"Today, I think that Evans' case shows, in spite of all that has been done, that a mistake was possible and that in the form in which the verdict was actually given in a particular case a mistake was made."

He hesitated after those words, "a mistake was made," and continued.

"I hope that no future home secretary, in office or after he has left office, will ever have to feel that although he did his best... that in fact he sent a man who was not guilty as charged to the gallows."

He sat down, face in hands.

Russ Oust 6 Judges Of Supreme Court

Seven New Members Appointed To Soviet's Highest Judicial Body

LONDON (Reuters)—Six members of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union have been relieved of their posts by Supreme Soviet decree, Moscow radio announced today.

The radio gave their names as L. V. Fetistov, Leonid Dimitriev, Ivan Zharinov, Pavel Kolesov, Ivan Maulevich and Panteley Pavlenko.

The decree of the Supreme Soviet was dated Feb. 7. At the same time it appointed seven new members of the supreme court.

The decree was approved by the Supreme Soviet during its six-day session which adjourned Wednesday after approving the appointment of Marshal Nikolai Bulganin to replace Georgi Malenkov as premier.

The Soviet Union's supreme court has more than 70 members and 35 "people's assessors" under its president.

The present court was elected for a five-year term by the Supreme Soviet in March, 1951.

Lavrenti Beria, former minister of the interior who was executed as a traitor in 1953, stood trial before the court.

Russia's leading legal minds and most prominent judges and jurists make up its membership. Under the constitution, the

SHIPS CRASH IN NEW YORK HARBOR FOG

NEW YORK (UP)—The inbound British freighter City of Bristol and the outbound American President Lines freighter President Harding collided in rain and fog at the entrance to New York Harbor today.

Inbound from Bombay with 115 men aboard, City of Bristol reported later she was holed but was making her way into harbor.

The President Harding, damaged only slightly, continued to Norfolk, Va., en route to the Far East.

KELOWNA MAIL CARRIER HELD AFTER STABBING

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A federal civil servant from Vancouver is recovering slowly and a Kelowna mail carrier charged with wounding today following a stabbing affray early Thursday.

In hospital is Alex Cyril Ogden, who was held by police for several hours before the serious wound in his abdomen was discovered.

Charged with wounding Ogden is James Lawrence Branniff, in whose home the argument that apparently led to the stabbing took place.

Ogden was booked on charges of intoxication following the argument, and the wound was not discovered until shortly before 9 a.m.

Ogden is attached to the army for audit purposes, and had been checking the army books at Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton camps.

West Van. Wins Cut On All Home Values

10 Per Cent Reduction Will Slash Roll by an Estimated $3.2 Million

West Vancouver Wednesday appealed its entire 1955 assessment on homes in its own court of revision. Today the municipality is deep in discussion on whether to seek a similar cut on lands and buildings.

It had asked for a 10 per cent reduction on its assessment of dwellings only, which was granted when municipal assessor James Y. Gardner showed that West Vancouver's assessments were "not compatible" with those of other mainland areas.

He told the court that he was forced to increase his assessment Equalization Act, and that he had "overshot" his tabulations.

The reduction will mean a cut of about $3,200,000 in the roll. It was stipulated by the three-man government appointed court that the reduction will become effective only after all individual appeals have been reviewed. To date, 92 of 264 private appeals have been considered.

South Africa Strike Call Defies Lash

Stoppage Protests Slum Clearance

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—A call went out today to Johannesburg's native Africans to strike against the South African government's latest segregation scheme. Chances of success are problematical.

The African National Congress dispatched runners to the city's slums, calling non-whites to walk off their jobs Saturday or Monday. The strikes were called to protest the government's forced movement of Negroes from their homes in West Johannesburg to selected non-white areas outside the city.

A successful strike could paralyze Johannesburg, where the Negro population does most of the work in factories, shops and homes. But South Africa's racial laws provide heavy penalties, including the lash, for Negroes found guilty of striking.

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—

Africans who had ignored a city council order to demolish their shanty-town homes near here today looked on passively as firemen burned them to the ground.

The Africans were given eviction notices Thursday and told to destroy the ramshackle dwellings which cover about 50 acres. The order was ignored.

The shanty town was regarded as a breeding ground for crime and disease and the city council recently ruled it unfit for habitation.

Eden Sparks Moscow Drive For Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS (UP)—The United Nations Security Council will resume on Monday its efforts to obtain a Formosa cease-fire.

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met with India's Jawaharlal Nehru today and it was reported they agreed to seek in Moscow new contacts aimed at reaching a Formosan truce.

The foreign secretary also saw U.S. Ambassador Winthrop C. Aldrich for nearly two hours.

Informed sources said Eden and Aldrich discussed the possibility of the Nationalist Chinese evacuating all the coastal islands off the China mainland to create a climate in which some form of conference on Formosa could be held.

The conferences were arranged soon after Eden emerged from the third Churchill cabinet meeting in 72 hours.

Prime Minister Churchill is reported to have reaffirmed Britain's firm belief that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek must be persuaded to withdraw from all the Nationalist inshore islands, including Quemoy and Matsu.

MOVIE STAR ONA MUNSON FOUND DEAD

NEW YORK (UP)—Ona Munson Berman, former motion and musical comedy star, was found dead in her West Side apartment by her husband today, apparently of an overdose of barbiturates, police reported.

Police said a note was found.

HARVEY MATUSOW

Perjurer Says He Was Puppet In Cohn's Hands

'Conjecture' Fed To Time Magazine

NEW YORK (UP)—Former Communist Harvey Matusow told a Federal Court today he was so anxious to be a government witness against Communists that he "dreamt up" false statements "as a selling point" for his own services.

Matusow, testifying on behalf of a new trial motion for 13 convicted second-string Communist leaders against whom he has sworn he testified falsely, said today that most of the statements he had attributed to the defendants were complete fabrication.

Matusow said Thursday that he had been a puppet in the hands of Roy Cohn, a former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and who was then an assistant United States attorney.

Matusow also said he lied when he charged that 125 employees of the New York Times were affiliated with Communists.

Matusow said the persons he named as Communists in Time magazine was "based on conjecture and surmise on my part."

18-Year-Old Dies In Electric Chair For Killing Woman

OSSENSING, N.Y. (UP)—An 18-year-old boy died in Sing Sing prison's electric chair Thursday night for the slaying of an elderly East Side woman.

Henry Matthews was led trembling into the death chamber and strapped into the chair at 11 p.m. He was silent throughout the proceedings. He was pronounced dead three minutes later.

Matthews was one of three youths convicted of slaying 83-year-old Mrs. Anna Levy, in June, 1953. Gov. Averell Harriman commuted sentence of Concepcion Correa, 19, and stayed the execution of Pedro Antonio Rios, 22, to let him submit to sanity tests.

Gale-Swept Fleet Sails for Formosa

ABOARD USS ESTES, OFF TACHENS (AP)—The last Chinese Nationalist soldiers boarded ships off the Tachen beaches at 11.10 p.m., tonight (7.10 a.m., PST), to complete the evacuation of the islands.

Red China did not interfere in the four-day operation.

The seared Tachens were evacuated in little more than half of the eight days scheduled for the operation.

BURN BUILDINGS

Earlier today Chinese Nationalist soldiers dynamited and put the torch to trenches, pill boxes and buildings.

February gale winds which had slowed the withdrawal to a crawl died down in midday.

But ships of the great evacuation armada still pitched and rolled at anchor off the islands as the last Nationalist troops, guns and equipment were loaded.

The whole armada, including the protective warships, now is sailing together on the 200-mile trip to Formosa.

U.S. carriers and pilots have shifted their jet and propeller-driven air umbrella from the Tachens to the ocean lanes to Formosa.

SPECIAL MISSION

The carrier Princeton, especially adapted for anti-submarine warfare, has been assigned a special protective mission as the evacuation heads for Formosa.

NEW CLASH IN CHINA AIR ANGERS REDS

LONDON (AP)—Peiping radio said tonight Red Chinese planes "drove off" four American Sabre jets near the northeast China coast this morning.

It said the American planes "flew away" and implied no shots were fired.

The broadcast charged: "American authorities now are intensifying their war provocations against the Chinese people."

Washburn reached Taipei today with 1,185 Nationalist troops, the vanguard of Chiang Kai-shek's American-trained 46th Division, and 520 tons of ammunition.

With the Tachen withdrawal completed, a story appears to be brewing over the future of Nanchishan, Nationalist island 80 miles to the south.

The Nationalists made clear today that they intend to hold it, whether or not the U.S. helps.

What Next? Peiping Appears Sure That It Can't Lose

By JAMES D. WHITE
AP Analyst

What next after the Tachens? Red China has the initiative. Peiping has many choices. It can sit tight and see what happens. It can pick off more offshore islands—piecemeal—from Nanchishan to Quemoy. It can blow the works and go after Formosa.

What are the main factors that may determine Peiping's strategy?

My Asian friends assure me of two things which may be of supreme importance.

One is the Chinese conviction that any war with the U.S. would involve the use of atomic and possible hydrogen weapons against them.

The other is an equally firm Chinese conviction that they, if anyone, can emerge from such a war. They figure it this way: Their treaty with Russia guarantees Soviet involvement in such a war. Russia and the U.S. then would destroy each other's war-making powers. China, with her 600,000,000 people and experience in survival, would emerge if anyone did.

The other side of the coin is this question: What if they do not develop?

In that case the Chinese can go on as they are, exerting pressure in all directions—including against Russia—to further their own ends.

This may mean, among other things, that the Chinese are not to be bought off with United Nations membership and diplomatic recognition. The time to have extended these favors, if ever, was while they still were favors—five years ago when China was weak and needed them and before she had attached herself inseparably to Russia.

Pflimlin Goes Before Assembly

PARIS (Reuters)—Pierre Pflimlin today decided to go before the National Assembly and ask it to approve him as premier, succeeding Pierre Mendes-France who was ousted last Saturday.

Pflimlin, a member of the Catholic Mouvement Republicain Populaire, announced his decision through a spokesman before giving his official acceptance to President Rene Coty.

He is expected to present his new cabinet to the assembly for approval Monday or Tuesday.

His decision came after a day of talks with party leaders and it was made in spite of refusal of the powerful Socialist group to support him.

Margaret Swims But No Pix

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (UP)—Princess Margaret today resumes her busy round of official functions after relaxing on Thursday at a beach on this British colony in the West Indies.

Strict security measures were imposed to ensure Margaret privacy during her stay at Heron Bay on the island's west coast.

Several photographers who sought to approach by sea were chased by a police launch and their cameras seized. Police also scuffled with another photographer who beached his boat some 300 yards from the bay.

PREMIER BENNETT ANSWERS LESAGE ON POWER

Ottawa Holds Back Kootenays Same as It Did Peace River

The federal government is holding back development of the Kootenays, "just the way it held back development of the Peace River for 40 years," Premier Bennett charged today.

Commenting on a statement made in the House of Commons by Resources Minister Jean Lesage (see "In Parliament," page 2), that B.C. is selling its water resources to the Kaiser interests for "peanuts," the premier said "this is just another example of the federal government holding back development."

"They held back development of the Peace River for 40 years, and now they are trying to stop development in the Kootenays," the premier stated.

Mr. Lesage made the deal the B.C. government made with Kaiser for construction of the Lower Arrow Lake dam at Castlegar means the province is "selling out its water resources for peanuts, and peanuts that are not even guaranteed."

Premier Bennett said "not an other foot of water" will cross into the U.S. as a result of the dam, because it has been flowing across the border for years.

CROSSWORD PUZZLERS FAIL FOR 9TH WEEK

Current series of Times Crossword Puzzlers enters its 10th week without a winner so total prize money for this week's contest, No. 99, jumps to $325.

The new puzzle together with complete answer and explanation to last week's contest appears today on Page 25.

One answer on which a surprising number of entries were eliminated was the word "lot" to which the clue was: "An item of information you might see on a real estate sign." The most common answer was "let" but to be an "item of information" it would have to be "to let." The single word "lot" is acceptable, however since it gives information by itself.

Another teaser in the puzzle was the word "zest." It is exactly what a player may need when he hasn't been doing to well. The word "rest," which most puzzlers arrived at, would be needed by a player occasionally even if he has been doing well.

IN PARLIAMENT

B.C.-KAISER POWER DEAL STIRS BITTER HOUSE DEBATE

OTTAWA (CP)—Resources Minister Lesage Thursday accused the British Columbia government of "selling out" its water resources for "peanuts—and peanuts that are not even guaranteed."

Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) joining the debate that followed the minister's remarks, doubted that the federal government could stop work on the dam once it starts even if B.C. Lands Minister Sommers were put in jail. He said B.C. Premier W. A. C. Bennett plans to go ahead with the Kaiser project regardless of federal action.

Mr. Lesage referred variously to the B.C. agreement with the Kaiser Corp. of the United States for construction of a water storage dam on the Arrow Lakes in B.C. as a "fire-sale," "sell-out" and a "steal."

Another Liberal in the Commons called out "a robbery."

Power needs of the U.S. should not be the criterion "when we decide what to do with our natural resources," Mr. Lesage said.

He read a section from the B.C.-Kaiser agreement which would guarantee B.C. 20 per cent of additional power generated at Bonneville, Idaho, by possible additions to the Arrow Lakes dam in later years.

Mr. Lesage said the U.S. federal power commission owns and operates Bonneville.

No Power Surpluses Left

Twenty years ago other provinces had thought they had water power surpluses to export to the U.S. But now there were no surpluses. Canada could not afford to part easily with its power resources.

The Kaiser dam would store in the Arrow Lakes 3,000,000 acre-feet of water—enough to cover that many acres of land to a depth of one foot. From the lakes, which are a widening of the Columbia river, water would be fed down to Bonneville as needed to generate power there.

John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) said the B.C.-Ottawa dispute over the Kaiser agreement presented a "dangerous situation." The federal government could override the province but in so doing it would destroy the Dominion.

stitutional problem involved in the bill.

He said he was told by Premier Bennett of B.C. that the province intended to go ahead with the Kaiser project no matter what the federal government did and that the province would be legally correct in doing so.

Suppose, Mr. Winch said, that Ottawa did obtain an injunction against B.C. to stop construction of the dam. How would it be served? If Lands Minister Sommers of B.C. were put in jail, that would not stop the gravel trucks working on the dam.

The matter might eventually have to go to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Mr. Winch said he supports the bill 100 per cent in principle. Mr. Lesage said action which affects the flow of an international river in another country cannot be confined solely to provincial jurisdiction. It was a matter of national and international concern.

"There can be no doubt about the constitutional validity of the bill," he said. James A. Byrne (L. Kootenay East) said the B.C.-Kaiser agreement jeopardizes Canadian use of the entire Columbia River basin.

To stretch provincial rights to the point where a private company could make a deal concerning national resources was "nothing short of pillage."

Bert Leboe (SC, Cariboo) said he can see no reason for the federal government to block a deal profitable to the people of B.C. The West Kootenay region of B.C. had more power potential than it could put to work.

Mr. Leboe said it appears the federal administration wants to prevent the B.C. government competing with the West Kootenay Light and Power Co., owned by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Attempted Auto Court Robbery Hearing Adjourned Until Thursday

Preliminary hearing of John Nilberg, charged with attempted robbery of Mrs. Georgina Pauwells at Victoria Auto Court on Jan. 28, was adjourned to Thursday in Saanich police court.

Main exhibits at the hearing were a muddy pair of shoes and a black plastic imitation Luger pistol.

Mrs. Pauwells testified that she had been in her living room with her sister and a friend watching television when she heard the office door open.

When she entered the office she saw a masked man pointing a gun at her. She said she took one look, screamed and slammed the door.

The man had on a white cloth mask, black hat and a rough grey coat.

Police testified that Nilberg was picked up about 15 minutes later while walking near the Gorge Bridge.

He was questioned and then taken back to the auto court.

When he stepped out of the police car his sweater pulled up and police officers noticed a pistol in the waistband of his pants.

He said the accused answered yes.

Detective Armstrong then asked him if he could have committed the holdup and forgotten it.

"Yes, but I don't think I did," he is alleged to have replied.

'Ingress' and 'Egress'
Rear Their Ugly Heads

By TONY DICKASON

Big, George Henry (not to be confused with the place chickens lay eggs) Tomlinson, a Socred adherent from North Vancouver, asked the Legislature Thursday "who is going to dam what?"

Or maybe he meant "dam," but Mr. Tomlinson didn't make it truly clear. But he left the impression that everybody was getting into the dam act, and that was for dam sure.

Some members at any rate dam the latest dam deal with a non-miser named Kaiser, a shining aluminum corporation with more money than pains.

Mr. Tomlinson delivers his address in a punchy style. Take what you will from that term. He prefers to confuse the still-conscious with such terms as "ingress and egress," which means, we think, "in and out."

He also rolls out in masterful style flashes of political insight such as "and so forth and so on," or "and that sort of thing."

But, to do him justice, the North Vancouver member scored when he said Liberal leader Arthur Laing was "the finest Liberal leader the Social Credit party could ever wish for." Then he glanced towards Premier Bennett, perhaps for a look of approval. The Premier was reading a book.

She Handed Note to Clerk.

GIRL'S LIPSTICK SCRAWL BRINGS POLICE ON RUN

PORT COLBOURNE, Ont.—A warrant charging Paul Valanoff, 31, with kidnapping was served out after police investigated the charge made by 17-year-old Grace Gabanyicz of Welland, Ont., that her acquaintance of a year and a half kidnapped the ballet dancer in Welland and forced her to drive with him to North Bay, Ont. A note—held above by Grace—scribbled in lipstick and handed to a railway clerk at the CNR station in North Bay—when they had stopped to send some telegrams—led to the man's arrest. Police found a loaded revolver stuffed into the upholstery of Valanoff's car and a hunting knife in the glove compartment. The ballet dancer told police the accused had telephoned her saying he had something important to tell her. She agreed to meet him and then, she claims, she was ordered into the car and forced to accompany Valanoff on the 325-mile trip to North Bay, which took nine hours.

ANTI-SKID DEVICE IMPRESSIVE

Racing Driver Finds Mt. Tolmie 'Just Like Monte Carlo' Course

By AB KENT

The twists and turns of Mt. Tolmie's Mayfair Drive are "just like the Monte Carlo," classic European auto race route, a former European driver said in Victoria Thursday.

Karl H. Mezger drove a car equipped with a revolutionary anti-skid device on Mt. Tolmie and in high-speed turns on the level, impressing RCMP, city police, civic and government officials with the car's amazing road-holding ability.

The provincial government will soon put several of the new products into use on departmental vehicles.

Eric V. Torney, sales representative, and Mr. Mezger, managing director of Autolot Distributors Ltd., Vancouver manufacturers of the autolot, say their product is "the only effective anti-skid device on the market today."

It is equally effective on pavement, gravel, sand, snow and ice, measures 39 inches in length, 4 1/2 inches in diameter and retails at garages and accessory stores in B.C. for $69.50.

The autolot operates by a system of gyroscopic weights inside the rolling pin-shaped cylinder, and is mounted on an automobile frame between the rear axle and the bumper, parallel with the ground and axle.

Its makers claim the autolot to be efficient at any reasonable speed at which cars can be driven. The autolot will not, for instance, stabilize a car attempting a right angle turn at 80 miles an hour.

"Nothing yet made will stop that car from going in the ditch," said Mr. Torney.

Under normal driving conditions, any car that can safely negotiate a turn at 25 miles an hour can, with autolot, make the same turn at 50 miles an hour safely, tests have shown.

"It is far more than an anti-skid device," says Mr. Torney. "It should more rightly be called

No CBC Strike, Gregg Promises

Stalled Radio-TV Pay Talks
Restarted by Labor Minister

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

OTTAWA—Talks between CBC officials and strike-threatening key radio and television technicians of the national network will resume "today or Saturday (and) everything is going to be all right," Labor Minister Milton F. Gregg said this forenoon.

Mr. Gregg made the announcement after a meeting between officials of the labor department and the CBC. This afternoon a similar meeting was to be held by the department with negotiating officers of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (CIO-CCL).

Government informants said that after the second meeting union-CBC negotiations would start up again.

Earlier today the union negotiators for some 770 radio and TV technicians of the publicly-owned broadcasting system got strike authorization from their international headquarters in San Francisco.

One of the implications of the authorization, according to T. J. O'Sullivan, NABET executive, is that "it makes available to us the international union's strike fund and full and complete monetary assistance from the international treasury."

The telegram arrived as the union negotiators sat in closed session deciding on a strike date.

Victoria Short Wave Club meets tonight at 8 at 2500 Foul Bay Road. Arrangements for instruction of beginners have been made.

28 H-BOMB HITS WOULD PARALYZE U.S.

CHICAGO (AP)—Atomic scientist Dr. Ralph Lapp said Thursday that 28 well-placed H-bomb hits on the United States could "atomize" with deadly radioactive fallout a vast region containing two-thirds of the country's industrial centres and 50,000,000 inhabitants. He said a single H-bomb, exploded close to the ground, would coat an area the size of Maryland (about 10,000 square miles) with a potential death mantle of radioactivity.

But Mr. Howard is really a kindly type. He told Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi "don't hesitate, dear boy," when that gentleman made a throaty interjection.

The premier wanted to know "when are you going to pass grade one in finance?" The casual conversation, of course, dealt with the recent budget which involves a mere bagatelle of $211,000,000.

"We don't have an economic adviser," shot back Tony Garraive, CCFer from Mackenzie constituency.

Speaking of an Indian affairs official, Mr. Howard made a classic observation: "He has a secretary with whom he is probably not familiar." Could be.

Of the government he said "if you are going to take credit for the sunshine then you have to take credit for the rain." He then pointed out a 28 per cent increase in persons committed to provincial jails since the Socreds took office. Wonder if they can vote from there?

Trade and Industries Minister Ralph Chetwynd is a baronial type who looks as though he should be gracing some country house for an extended week-end rather than cloying up his life with crass work considerations.

He was elected twice in the Cariboo, and believes people just haven't utilized truly unless they've visited there. He said also that his department to some extent was outside the realm of political "hurly burly," and indicated that both he and his staff led a life of cloistered, almost aesthetic, simplicity.

Regional Planning Stressed by Weisman

Industrial and population growth deteriorates a city's way of life and the cure is regional planning, Brahm Weisman, Capital Regional Planning Director, told Victoria Rotary Club Thursday.

Councils guided by regional planning can ensure maximum return from every tax dollar he said.

Lack of planning has resulted in increased costs, time loss and wasted energy and "helter skelter" subdivisions expanding over the area, which interfere with development of arable land, he added.

Regional planning ensures adequate parks, locating of schools where children don't have to cross highways, dirt and noise-free residential areas, uncongested highways and sufficient downtown parking space.

He stated that planning is

Who's Playing Politics?

IN THE legislature here and in Parliament at Ottawa British Columbia Social Credit members have been beating the party drum this week on the Columbia River power issue.

Mr. R. O. Newton, of Columbia, and George McLeod, Okanagan Boundary, played variations on the same theme in Victoria and in the Federal house respectively. They led others of their political persuasion in the charge that Ottawa is blocking the Social Credit Government's Kaiser dam deal for political reasons only.

In their arguments, the Social Crediters are proving party allegiance and staunch loyalty to Mr. Bennett and Mr. Sommers. They appear to be doing nothing else.

On the same day that their speeches were reported, this newspaper carried a special despatch under a Washington headline explaining the Canadian-United States attitude to the proposed export of Canadian power, or the use of Canada as a water reservoir for the generation of American power.

The Canadian position can be reviewed briefly. Before the First World War Ontario signed a contract to supply large quantities of power to the United States. Later, as industrial development proceeded, the province found it could put that power to good use—better use than the cash returns from the power contract. But even when the agreement officially ended, Ontario could not discontinue the supply to the United States. U.S. interests were dependent on the established flow of power. Its removal would have spelled their death. Canada found that having turned the tap on, it could not turn it off.

Since that time this country, pursuing a policy laid down by Mr. MacKenzie King, has followed the almost inflexible rule that no more power should be exported from Canada to the United States.

The big neighbor does not like that policy, but appreciates the reasoning which produced it. Even under heavy pressure from Washington State interests, the U.S. preserves that recognition in relation to the Columbia River potential.

This is background material which lifts the Canadian treatment of the Columbia River and the Arrow Lakes-Kaiser dam out of the narrow field of party politics. If British Columbia Social Crediters here and in Ottawa cannot understand—or refuse to understand—the large issue, its importance cannot be lost on the citizens of British Columbia.

No one knows, at this point in time, what power the province may need in the future. Arguments that there is a surplus in the southeast corner of British Columbia at the moment provide no assurance that this condition will continue.

It is obvious, moreover, that the Pacific Northwest states have developed a tremendous industrial empire based on cheap power available in that area. That cheap power potential under Pacific Northwest states' control has been expended almost to the limit. Unless it can be increased by use of British Columbia storage, or transmission of power itself, the natural movement of big industry seems assured to this province—which still has capacities for the development of cheap power.

Should studies now in prospect disclose that British Columbia's position would not be injured in any way by the Arrow Lake dam, conceivably such a project could be undertaken. At this point, however, the Federal Government's case seems unassailable. It is obviously viewing the issue in far broader perspective than that of a local dam at Castlegar. It is not concerned with a quick-dollar return for a supply of power which could be false economy both in setting a pattern for downstream benefits and possibly repeating the unhappy experience of Ontario, which found power once committed cannot be withdrawn.

Are these what Mr. Newton and Mr. McLeod consider narrow political considerations?

Capital Grant and Aquarium

MEMBERS OF THE CAPITAL City Grant committee, the group which decides how $50,000 in provincial funds shall be spent each year to beautify Victoria, have before them proposed projects for 1955. These include waterfront developments from Holland Point to Clover Point.

At the moment, nothing further is being said about the construction of an aquarium at the former location. Whether or not that plan is occupying the thoughts of committee members, is not disclosed.

Federal Aid for Schools

DEBATE on federal aid for schools has reached its customary destination in Ottawa. Nothing that isn't being done now by the national treasury to assist education will be done in the coming year.

The outcome of the debate, adjourned this week and presumably shelved for the remainder of the session, is not unexpected.

Its incidence in Parliament does, however, provide opportunity to remind Canadians, both as a nation and as the citizens of various provinces, what the extension of further federal aid would probably mean.

At present Ottawa contributes to universities on a special grant system which includes assistance for research of national significance. In addition the Federal Government makes certain funds available for technical schools. The pattern for the latter payments is an outgrowth of the two wars when it was found that the national interest would be served by providing broader technical training for young Canadians. Hence the Federal Government gives assistance in that field.

But Ottawa takes no part in financing the main school program. Authorities there say that payments into the school account would automatically bring with them an intrusion into educational affairs—a field of purely provincial jurisdiction.

Apart from any arguments which may be raised on that point, the question of federal aid for schools has double importance for British Columbians. The chief point in support of the proposal emphasizes the desirability of equalizing educational opportunities to the greatest degree possible throughout the nation. That is a principle with which honest Canadians can have little complaint.

But in implementing any financial program to equalize opportunity, more money would have to be collected from the rich provinces for distribution to those which are poor. At that point the principle strikes the British Columbia pocketbook.

No province in the nation pays as much per pupil for education as does B.C. Those payments are collected from the citizens both through local and provincial taxation. Before Ottawa could justifiably give British Columbia more, it would have to help raise the depressed educational areas of Canada. To do that it would have to collect funds where they existed—principally from the wealthy provinces. Hence, in broad terms, before B.C. would receive any return, it would have to help the less fortunate.

That is the practical aspect of federal aid to education as it applies to this province. It should not discourage the principle of equalizing opportunities throughout Canada. But citizens of the Pacific Coast ought to recognize the effects any such plan will have on them. If they are altruistic enough, then they have every reason to endorse the principle, provided they are also ready to take their chances on the intrusion of federal authorities into what is constitutionally a provincial field.

First Read 'The Loved One'

BEFORE THE COUNCIL OF Central Saanich takes any action on the request for permission to establish a pet cemetery, its members might spend a profitable evening reading Evelyn Waugh's "The Loved One."

The English satirist has an impressive faculty of blowing away the vapors of sentimentality which might otherwise obscure municipal vision.

The concept of pet cemeteries is not new. Several have been established in the United States. On many grounds it is difficult to see how they add to the stature or dignity of the communities which support them.

There is every reason why the owner of a pet should extend to it affection while it is alive. There are excellent grounds to support the treatment of animals in ill-health or injury. Once they are dead, they can leave behind them poignant and often pleasant memories. But their physical bodies then are merely carcasses. To treat them as anything else, or to give them interment similar to that accorded humans, is something a great deal less than elevating.

The Do-It-Yourself Boys

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

A FEW days ago two little girls I know (aged about 11) were writing some examinations in Grade VI. One of them had made special preparations for her Science exam. Maybe it isn't called Science any more... It is probably called Social Engineering or something like that, but at any rate you know the stuff I mean.

She was convinced that she would be asked an Important Question about the way the plants make sugar from the air, by means of the green stuff called chlorophyll in their leaves. I believe the process is called photosynthesis. I must ask the little girl... she'd be happy to tell me. Something to do with light acting on chlorophyll, enabling it to make sugar from carbon dioxide and water. And by the way, the first man to find a cheap way of making sugar from the air will become one of the world's wealthiest men; so that some little girl, perhaps yet unborn, will be able to get sugar from the millionaire, by the action of her light upon his greenness.

WELL, the exam paper didn't ask one darned thing about plants making sugar from the air. And the little girl was thoroughly indignant. She was filled with a sense of failure. In more ways than one. "So," she told me, "I answered all their questions the best way I knew how. And I still had lots of time left, on account of I didn't know much about some of their questions, so I added a question of my own. I wrote down: 'What do you know about plants making sugar from the air?' And then I answered it."

The other little girl got absolutely perfect marks on one of her test papers. So did two other children in the class. But only two children in the class are allowed to receive the grade "O" (for "Outstanding," not for "Zero") on their report cards. And since the other two children had received "O" on previous reports, it was felt they had seniority. Or squatters' rights. First come, most deserved.

SO my young friend was asked to be good enough to accept a lower grade for having equalled the other two kids. At least, she tells me this is all true. I hope it isn't for her sake. I am only faintly amused by it. But for those who like a joke I hope it is true after all.

Do you want to hear another joke about exams? All right, I'm full of them. A 13-year-old boy I know came home from school the other day and said "Gee, I must be practically a genius. I got one of the best marks in the whole class on that exam this morning." Asked what he got, he said "22. Out of 50." His mother said she didn't think this was any too flabbergasting, but he said "Well, heck, only two or three of us were in the 20's, and the best mark in the room was 30. Nearly everyone else was down around 10." His mother said he must be grouped with a pack of pinheads and flycatchers, then. But he said no, she had the situation upside-down. "When that happens," said he, "you don't call it a bad class. You call it a bad exam." So the exam was a failure, not the boys.

TEACHERS YOU must never think, from those little anecdotes above, that I have a sardonic tendency to mock school teachers. Much though I owe certain teachers in the way of revenge, I have nothing but sympathy for teachers as a class. It is a depressing trade, much of the time. Most teaching is like having to write a long daily letter to somebody who doesn't exist. Or like pushing bank deposits through a hole in the wall, with no bank on the other side of the hole but only a bottomless abyss, and as the lost money falls away into space it doesn't even tinkle.

The other day I was standing in the Hotel Vancouver, when a poor lunatic rushed up most urgently, waving his hands at me and saying "Please, please, please!" I asked this pathetic madman what I could do for him. There was great pain in his eyes, and his face was contorted. "Please," he said, "please try to keep your fingers crossed and WRITE BIGGER." He then rushed away.

At first I was puzzled to think what had brought him to this sort of worry. And then I realized he must be an old teacher, driven inexorably to this type of plea by the efforts, and the lack of effort, of heaven knows what generations of little animals. He was probably in the Hotel Vancouver to address some convention. Or, more likely, to have some convention address him.

EXAMS DO YOU know Professor Raleigh's Thoughts on Examinations in that wonderful little collection of posthumous papers, "Laughter from a Cloud"? The Thoughts on Exams consist of about 30 little aphorisms or epigrams, all of them good and of course written by an expert on exams and teaching. Written, in fact, by a man who said that when he is accused, on Judgment Day, of having taught Literature, he will plead that he had a wife and children to support and that he never really believed in the stuff anyhow.

One of my favorites is this: "The brilliant man who did not know, and the learned man who did not think, met in the Second Class and disliked each other. The poet sat in the Third and laughed." Here is another nifty (but they are all nifties): "Knowledge cries out for recognition; Wisdom that asks for recognition is Folly." Room for one more? "No instrument smaller than the world is fit to measure men and women. Examinations measure Examinees."

Tactics for a Cease Fire

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

THE evacuation of the Tachens has now begun, and if it is successful, which we need not doubt, the position will be stronger and safer than it was before.

A great deal has been said and written about how important it is to hold positions of strength. The Tachens were not a position of strength. They were a military and political liability. They could not be defended except at the risk of a general war which no one in his senses would undertake for such unimportant territory. The Chinese Nationalist troops on them had nothing useful to do, and they were in a military trap—like the French at Dienbienphu. Had they been lost, instead of being evacuated, Chiang would have made the same military error as the French made when they locked up a garrison at Dienbienphu, locked it up in an outpost of no decisive importance which could not be defended. The story in Indo-China might well have been different from what it is today if a policy of evacuation from indefensible outposts to concentrated strong points had been carried out.

Lippmann

SET PATTERN These considerations apply to the other off-shore islands, and the sound American policy would be to follow up what is being done in the Tachens by doing the same thing in Quemoy and Matsu. This is the surest way to carry out the policy which the President laid down in his message to Congress. The policy is to keep Formosa and the Pescadores out of unfriendly hands, and to bring about a cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

There is one way by which at present Formosa can be defended. That is by American military power. But there are two ways in which the policy of the cease-fire can be put into effect. The one—which we have been attempting—is to negotiate a cease-fire with Peking. If they would agree to it, they would tacitly assent not to attack Formosa and we—so it is generally understood—would in return bring about either the neutralization or the evacuation of the off-shore islands.

This way of arriving—at a cease-fire—has been rebuffed angrily by Chou En-lai. We ought not to be surprised. It was wishful thinking to suppose that the Chinese government, which has won the civil war on the mainland, would appear as a non-member before the Security Council in which China is represented by a faction that is no longer on the Chinese mainland. It was no less wishful to suppose that the Red Chinese would publicly sign a cease-fire which meant that they had renounced the right to complete the defeat of Chiang and to recover by force the island of Formosa.

It is most improbable that the cease-fire can be obtained by public agreement either in the U.N. or in any other kind of conference.

STRATEGIC MEASURE There is, however, another way to bring about the cease-fire for which the United States national policy calls. It can be done by direct American action, and it does not depend upon the negotiation of an agreement with Peking. This is to do in Quemoy and Matsu what we are doing in the Tachens—to evacuate them not as the result of a bargain but as a strategic measure to liquidate a position of weakness, and to fall back on Formosa, which is a genuine position of strength.

Once that is done, there will be in fact, whatever Peking may or may not agree to, a practical cease-fire in the Formosa Strait. Pin-prick bombing and shooting and raiding, which the Nationalists do from these off-shore islands, will stop. There will be a hundred miles of blue water between Red China, which has no navy, and Formosa, which we are defending. In a military sense this will be for all practical purposes a cease-fire between the two Chinas—as there is between the whales and the elephants who cannot get at one another. Formosa will not be in Peking's military orbit. The fantasy of putting Chiang back on the mainland by an all-out American war will have been dissipated. The risk of a great war over trifling islands will have been greatly reduced. We shall have protected our genuine, as distinguished from our fictitious interests, and we shall have the moral and political support of our allies.

MORE DIGNIFIED

It will be said by some that to evacuate the islands is appeasement. But if we are talking about appeasement and about prestige, which is the firmer American policy; to sell these islands for a cease-fire, treating them as pawns in a bargain, or to get rid of them as military and political and legal liabilities, and to take a stand on a line—that of Formosa and the Pescadores—which is a defensible line, is a defensible strategic line, which is a sound political line in that it has the support of our allies? I think it is more dignified to evacuate the islands for our own reasons than to sell them to obtain the benefit of a truce. We can have the benefits of the truce without bargaining and by our own voluntary action.

There is only one considerable doubt about this policy. It is whether Chiang can be induced to agree to it without demoralizing his army and his officialdom. There is no denying that that could happen. But we have to remember that if it is going to happen because of the evacuation of the off-shore islands, it is going to happen anyway. For the administration has taken the fundamental decision not to support a war for the conquest of the mainland.

NO DECEPTION

It cannot be sound policy to use Quemoy and Matsu as a way of allowing the Formosan Chinese to deceive themselves into thinking that the administration does not mean what it says. It cannot be sound policy to use these islands as bait for the Formosan Chinese, as a way of causing them to keep on thinking that the United States can be pushed, pulled, ensnared and entangled into the kind of war that the United States has decided not to wage.

We cannot go on forever, or for long, sacrificing the national interests of the United States to our fears and to our guesses of what will and what will not happen to the morale of Chiang's regime. If our true interest is to evacuate the off-shore islands and to stand on the legal line of Formosa and the Pescadores, then we owe it to the people of this country to follow our true interests, refusing to let high policy be controlled by the internal politics of the Formosa regime.

As Our Readers See It

BICKERING

One feature of our legislative news is the persistent bickering that is staged every day with no thought or effort towards constructive views.

Can we not see this same routine playing such havoc in the French parliament to such an extent that no one is capable of bringing order out of chaos?

The only thing our legislative members seemed to agree upon was the circulation of that petition to increase the emoluments of their office, which, like other groups, indicates how earnest and sincere they are towards any reduction in the cost of living.

So, for a change, why not help instead of hinder!

H. WYER,
1170 Chapman Street.

DRUGS AND LIQUOR

If the Sacred government is genuinely interested in curbing the drug traffic—and we have good reason to believe it is, with the opening of a research department—why does it not keep some of the liquor stores open all night?

No form of legislation entirely curbs drinking, as was proved by prohibition and later government liquor stores.

Since we are a free country, nothing is going to stop people having a party after regular closing hours, thus they could purchase their liquor from the government liquor store rather than from a bootlegger.

When the profit motive is removed the forces of evil will leave the city, and thus the bootlegger would become almost a thing of the past, for it is an established fact that illegal trafficking in liquor and drugs go largely together.

D. ASHDOWN.

EFFECTIVE LIVING

According to the February 2 issue of the Victoria Daily Times, the department of education has produced a revised handbook for teachers of "effective living." Unfortunately, the provincial "educators" are reluctant to discuss the matter. Why? What do they fear? What are they hiding? Surely they would discuss their brain child if they themselves really thought that the public would tolerate "effective living" with all that it implies.

The pedagogues in the Douglas Building tell us that they do not want to provoke a new controversy over "effective living" because the last one "resulted in the lowest number of teacher training applicants in years."

It is indeed curious that those who confidently predict future enrollments—and spend millions on the basis of these predictions—should fail to realize why present enrollments are what they are. Despite their preoccupation with "advanced petting," "blind dates" and "puppy love," the "educators" do not seem to realize that the last depression temporarily lowered the birth rate and thereby reduced the number of students now available for all professions. Then, too, most university graduates do everything they can to avoid the "educators" and their so-called training courses. These last two factors help to explain the low teacher training enrollments.

Let us thank our pedagogues for the new "effective living" handbook, and, having done this, let us ask them to resign. Let us do this so that the scholars who we hope will replace them can reintroduce reading, writing and arithmetic into the schools.

"A. B. C."

LIKES KAISER DAM

Much has been written and said on the subject of the lower level storage dam proposed on the lower Arrow Lakes.

Your editorial of February 1, headed "Bargaining Position on Power," ends with the paragraph: "Mr. Laing cautions the provincial government against rushing into agreements. His advice is sound."

I don't see on what you base that last sentence.

I think the foresight of our Minister of Lands and Forests is to be greatly admired and praised. The federal government is determined to block the project, even if it has to enact special legislation to do so. One wonders if this would be the case had the B.C. provincial government been Liberal also! One is reminded vividly of the blocking of attempted provincial legislation in Alberta by the then federal government when the Social Credit movement first gained power.

This time the federal government offers the excuse that it proposes to divert the waters of the upper Columbia River into the Fraser River. This would be both economically and practically unfeasible, nor would the fisheries commission sanction the building of a series of dams on the Fraser River.

Mr. Sommers' scheme would bring about $2,000,000 into the B.C. treasury annually without cost to the taxpayers, and long before the federal government got around to trying to carry out their grandiose scheme we would be replacing hydro-electric plants with atomic-generated power, as per February 2 broadcast of the CBC.

The agreement with the Kaiser interests would be, I believe, for 50 years, and even if it were cancelled by mutual agreement on the advent of atomic power, B.C. would still gain many millions from what is so far waste water.

It is high time that Mr. Laing and his ilk used their brains to see beyond the end of their noses.

New Bond Street Hotel

LONDON—Britain soon is to open its first American hotel. It is called the Westbury and has been built on the corner of fashionable Bond Street and Conduit Street. It will be over the road from the newly built offices of Time and Life, which makes two U.S. invaders into this famous British street which strictly speaking isn't called Bond Street at all. Actually it is two streets joined together, one called Old Bond Street and the other New Bond Street. But nobody bothers about the "old" and the "new," using the term Bond Street to designate anything femininely elegant.

Whenever my wife feels a bit depressed she takes a stroll down Bond Street, window-shopping, and seems to come home refreshed by her session of day-dreaming about all the wonderful clothes, jewelry and cosmetics she could have purchased from the Bond Street shops if our bank balance would have stood it. Everything is expensive on Bond Street.

This new hotel has been put up by the Knott chain and it's the first hotel to be built in the West End of London since the early 1930's. One thing its management hopes to do is to counteract in some measure the perpetual grouse of visiting North Americans that they can't find hotels in Britain that provide anything like the facilities and service of hotels on the other side of the Atlantic. Of course, there's not much cause for complaint from visitors about what they get at such hotels as Claridge's, the Ritz, the Dorchester and other top-notch London hotels. But the point is that at the rates one has to pay there it could only be expected that you would get something like value for your money.

'Cancer Cure' Pastes

A professor of law just sent me a note from one of his journals about a man with a small cancer on the face who went to a cancer quack, not licensed to practice medicine. The quack put on a cancer paste which "got away." It went where it was not supposed to go and ate off part of the man's nose.

If the man only had had sense enough to go to a good dermatologist or an expert in cosmetic surgery that man would have destroyed the cancer with either electric sparks, which go exactly where the operator wants them to go and no farther, or, he would have cut out the lesion neatly with a knife, and perhaps replaced the tissue with a skin graft.

It is most unfortunate that perhaps millions believe that quacks, often without a high school education, have some wisdom that exceeds that of college graduate physicians who have been studying medicine all their lives, and who have at their disposal all the knowledge that physicians have obtained and recorded since the time of the ancient Greeks. For some 2,500 years every drug and procedure that has been discovered to have decided value has been retained, and is being used today.

The other day, when I asked a quack what he was using, I found it to be a drug which has been used in China for thousands of years. It was tried out in Europe some 600 years ago and later given up as more trouble than it was worth!

COMMUNITY HOSPITAL

I was just talking with my old friend, Dr. William Braasch, of the Mayo Clinic, and he was telling me of the fine new Olmsted County Community Hospital (in Rochester) to the development of which he has been giving nearly all of his spare time. The hospital is designed to be a center where the general practitioners of the country can take their patients and stay in charge of them.

Physicians who have special training in any specialty will be allowed to practice their specialty in the hospital. Those who have no special training in surgery will not be allowed to operate.

Anxious mothers ask what can be done for the child with St. Vitus Dance, or as it is called Sydenham's chorea. The so-called Sydenham's chorea is usually part of a rheumatic disease. In many cases the chorea is not associated with any involvement of the joints, but it may be associated with some heart disease due to the rheumatic fever.

The disease is characterized by sudden involuntary jerky movements which may involve muscles all over the body. Usually the muscles in the face and the arms are most involved. The child may be making faces or his arms or shoulders may be twitching and there may be marked restlessness, the child may drop things. Fortunately, voluntary movements are well performed. Practically always the child gets over it, but in my experience I have reason to suspect that the child who once had a bad chorea always remains more than normally nervous.

So far as treatment goes, rest seems to be the most important element. The doctor may give the child a little phenobarbital or he may give some sodium salicylate or aspirin on the theory that this might help with the rheumatic condition, granting that such is present.

TROUBLE MAY RECUR

Usually the child is ill for only a matter of a few weeks or months. After recovery, the twitching movements may return again for a while. Most of the children get the trouble between the ages of seven and 14 years. The disease is rarely seen after puberty. During the spell the child may stumble a good deal, and at school he or she may have trouble with writing. The speech may become indistinct. The child will probably be emotionally unstable, and more than usually irritable.

The twitching is likely to be worse when the child is excited or tired. The twitches generally go away when the child is asleep. Usually the muscles become weaker than normal. One authority has stated that chorea does not occur together with active arthritis.

Some writers question the relation of chorea to rheumatic fever. Only a very few of these patients get rheumatic heart trouble. They rarely have any fever. The child can't stick out his tongue and hold it quiet.

As one authority said, there is no really effective treatment for chorea. Cortisone hasn't worked well. Fortunately, in 10 weeks or so the child should get over it.

CO-OPS ASK Easing of Housing Curbs

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's co-operative unions Thursday urged the government to grant them greater freedom to build low-rental housing projects and to guarantee advance payments made to fishermen by marketing co-operatives.

The requests were in a brief submitted to a committee of the cabinet by the Co-operative Union of Canada and the Conseil Canadien de la Co-operation. The two organizations claim to speak for more than 1,000,000 Canadians who are members of co-operative unions.

The chief said co-operatives should have the same right as limited dividend companies to sponsor low-rental housing projects. It said they lack this right under the present interpretation of the National Housing Act.

B.C. Organist, Now in London, Wins Bax Medal

LONDON (BUP) — Hugh J. McLean, a young Vancouver organist, has been awarded the Sir Arnold Bax medal, presented annually to a Commonwealth student studying piano, violin, voice or organ.

The medal was presented here by Miss Harriet Cohen during the Festival of Commonwealth Youth, sponsored by the Overseas League.

McLean has been in England the past five and one-half years and is an organist at King's College, Cambridge.

The medal honors the memory of Sir Arnold Bax who was Master of the King's Music.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

29-YEAR-OLD WOMAN HEADS 23,000 UNIONISTS

MONTREAL (CP) — Huguette Flamand, who says she feels more at home in a tough labor dispute than at a tea party, Thursday night became the first woman president of the 23,000-member Montreal Labor Council (CIO-CCL).

Miss Flamand, 29, was the overwhelming choice at an election meeting, defeating Charles Devlin, a 29-year-old lawyer for the post.

Since joining the labor movement in 1943, Miss Flamand has served as secretary for the United Packing-house Workers in Quebec and the Maritimes.

Yalta Anniversary Rekindles Argument

Nine U.K. MPs Renew Protests on Wrong Rendered Poland in 1945 'Power Pact'

LONDON (Reuters) — Nine Members of Parliament have reiterated their protest against the Yalta Agreement on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of that wartime conference.

The group of MPs declare in a letter to The Times: "We the undersigned cannot allow the 10th anniversary of that unhappy agreement to pass without calling the attention of our fellow countrymen to the tragic way in which events have justified our convictions and our votes upon that occasion."

"This country took up arms in 1939 in defense of the freedom of Poland. Though we emerged victorious from the war, Poland is still enslaved and Poland is an essential part of a free Europe."

"We believe that whatever may be the outcome of the tortured years in which we live, there can be no surety that all the men in all the lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear until the states of central and eastern Europe which now groan under the tyranny of Soviet domination have regained their liberty."

"What happened at Yalta has come to be accepted as the inevitable outcome as an act of power. We cannot underwrite it as an act of justice."

The signatories are: Patrick Donner (Conservative), Guy Lloyd (Conservative), John McGovern (Labor), John S. P. Mellor (Conservative), Victor Raikes (Conservative), Douglas Savory (Conservative), R. R. Stokes (Labor), William Teeling (Conservative) and Colonel Thornton-Kemsley (Conservative).

Long-Promised Record Still Unpublished

WASHINGTON (AP) — This 10th anniversary of the climax of the Yalta conference arrived with no new word from the United States state department as to when it will publish the secret records of those top-level talks.

It was at Yalta that the victorious Allies were supposed to have settled the hard-won peace. The conference has been the subject of bitter political recriminations, as well as harsh words between the U.S. and Russia.

TORONTO (CP) — There will be no Sunday boxing or wrestling in Toronto or anywhere else in Ontario, athletic commissioner Merv McKenzie said Thursday night.

Jobless Prefer Drawing Insurance To Working Says Manitoba MLA

WINNIPEG (BUP) — A number of Canada's jobless are unemployed because they prefer living on unemployment insurance to working, a Liberal member of the Manitoba legislature said Thursday.

"I'm not impressed with unemployment figures," Stanley Copp (L—St. Clements) said. "A man getting $25 a week unemployment insurance would have to be offered a very attractive job to take it."

Copp said if such a man took a job at $40 a week, he would actually be getting only $15 a week extra for his work. He said some people preferred to "take it easy."

M. A. Gay (CCF—Winnipeg North) called Copp's statement "nonsense" and challenged him to give one concrete example.

DUMP GIVES UP ROYAL BONES

MALINES, Belgium (Reuters)—Remains believed to be those of Marguerite of York, sister of Edward IV, 15th century king of England, were recovered from a refuse dump here Thursday by a local archivist. Workmen had left the remains on the trash heap after finding them in a lead coffin on the site of an old church.

City Officer May Command Loaned Sub

HALIFAX (CP)—Rear-Admiral G. D. H. Hawkes, flag officer of the Royal Navy submarine fleet, said Thursday Canadian officers, in time, likely will command the three subs Britain is loaning this country.

The admiral said two Canadian navy officers finishing submarine training in Britain would probably command two of the subs on loan to Canada.

Commander Edward C. Gigg of Victoria had three more months to put in as commander of a small British submarine. Lt.-Cmdr. C. P. Morgan of Surrey, England, had practically finished his time.

The British submarines will be used to give Canada's east coast fleet exercises in its sub-hunting specialty.

Admiral Hawkes told a press conference that British-trained Canadian sailors will at first constitute "not more than a third" of the crews of the vessels.

About 250 Canadian sailors now are taking courses in England and training in British submarines. The group will man the first submarine to arrive here will have had about six months' training.

The "A" class submarine Astute is expected at Halifax in mid-March, the Ambush in mid-May and the Alderney in July.

Bing Improved, Leaves Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Bing Crosby walked out of St. John's Hospital today following three weeks' recuperation from an operation to remove a kidney stone.

Leo Lynn, long-time "Man Friday" to the crooner, met Crosby to take him home. Crosby was scheduled to rest there for several days before traveling to his Palm Springs home for further recuperation.

The singer appeared cheerful and rested, and one of his nurses at the Santa Monica hospital described him as "in satisfactory, fine condition."

No Sales Tax On Cookstove Oil Requested

Fuel oil used in cookstoves should be exempt from taxation, Social Credit MLA George Tomlinson, North Vancouver, told the legislature Thursday.

He said the government "as soon as possible" should remove the tax from cookstove-oil, because it has many old age pensioners.

"When you start getting old age pension, you don't feel like going out and splitting wood," said Mr. Tomlinson.

He said he wanted to make it clear he was not advocating removal of the tax on fuel oil used for any purpose other than cooking.

The North Vancouver member said the days "of cheap firewood and coal has passed, and that pensioners are now using oil."

City Gets $6,840

B.C. Electric grossed $228,000 in bus fares during the last quarter of 1954. A cheque was sent to the city this week for $6,840, 3 per cent of the gross, according to franchise agreements.

Nike Exploded At Churchill In -35 Weather

Guided Missile Test Said Success

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Tribune says Canadian gun crews Wednesday successfully fired two of the U.S. Army's supersonic guided missiles at the Fort Churchill firing range 600 miles northeast of here.

The rockets, dubbed the Nike, were launched from platforms in -35-below weather and in a strong wind. No target was used but the radar control demonstrated that the missiles would have hit any moving plane, the story says.

In Ottawa Wednesday an army headquarters spokesman said a team of Canadian and American senior army officers and scientists would fire the missile used as an anti-aircraft defense weapon.

Cuba Hotels Become Gambling Casinos

AINBAGAVANA, Cuba (UP)—The government has authorized hotels costing $1,000,000 or more to establish gambling casinos on the premises.

Informed sources said the hotels will have to pay a $25,000 license fee, $2,000 monthly plus 20 per cent of the take to the government to help develop the tourist trade.

TB BATTLE NEARLY WON

EDMONTON, Ont. (CP)—Tuberculosis may eventually be wiped out as a cause of death and illness in Canada, Dr. F. G. Robertson, Parliament assistant to Health Minister Martin, said Thursday night.

Dr. Robertson said if the momentum of recent progress is maintained there is good reason to believe tuberculosis will be wiped out.

REPORTS TO YOU

"THE MIRACLE OF LIFE INSURANCE"

What has been called "the miracle of life insurance" enables an immediate estate to be created by men and women in all walks of life, thereby safeguarding themselves and their families against adverse circumstances arising from untimely death.... But the "miracle" does not stop there, for, in the process of planned saving through life insurance by millions of citizens across the nation, a great reservoir of creative capital is directed into vital channels of our national economy. Thus, the modest contribution of the man in the street to family security becomes an imposing investment in the nation's resources, industry and commerce, a factor of incalculable significance to the country's economic stability, and to individual and national well-being.

FROM THE SUN LIFE ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1954:

Total Sun Life insurance in force at December 31st: $6 billions

New life insurance purchased during the year: $696 millions (Largest amount of any Canadian company)

Payments to policyholders, annuitants and beneficiaries: $134 millions including $93 millions paid to living policyholders and $41 millions to the beneficiaries of deceased policyholders.

New Sun Life insurance written in 1954 showed an increase of $119 millions over the previous year.

2,039,103 Sun Life policies and group certificates are now in force.

Since the first Sun Life policy was written in 1871, the Company has paid out in benefits more than $2,566,000,000. During 1954 an average of $529,000 was paid out each working day.

New mortgage loans amounting to $83 millions were completed in 1954, bringing the total mortgage investment of the Company to $323 millions, mostly in individual homes.

Sun Life policyholders will receive a copy of the Company's Annual Report for 1954, containing full text of the President's address at the Annual Meeting, comparative charts of business in force, benefits paid, etc., and other worthwhile information. Copies of the Report may also be obtained from the Head Office of the Company, or from:

Mission Needs $100,000 For New Ships

PARKSVILLE (CP)—A campaign to collect $100,000 for purchase of two ships for the Columbia Coast Mission was announced here by Rev. Alan Greene.

Canon Greene said the two ships are needed to replace the Columbia, largest of the three ships operated by the mission, and the Rendezvous, a smaller ship.

This year was the 50th anniversary of the mission which serves 225 ports of call from Pender Harbor to Bull Harbor.

High School Cooks Feed Rotary Club

QUALICUM BEACH—Eight members of the high school home economics class here cooked and served dinner to the Rotary Club at its regular meeting as part of their curriculum.

Members termed it "successful."

During dinner a collection was taken and turned over to the class to pay for subscriptions to home economics magazines, and Roy Thorntson, principal, took members on a tour of the school.

Fluoridation of water was the subject of an address by Dr. T. W. Arkle, school district dentist with the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit.

Dr. Arkle is a former associate of the late Sir Wilfred Grenfell in Labrador, and with him made the first dental survey of Indians and Eskimos in the north. He was later asked by the Canadian Government to make a sub-Arctic dental survey, again including the native tribes.

During his talk he showed slides comparing the teeth of white men with the teeth of Eskimos living under primitive conditions.

School Costs In Nanaimo Top Million

NANAIMO—School District 68 budget sent to Victoria by the board of trustees exceeded $1,000,000 for the second time in two years.

Exact amount was not disclosed pending education department reaction to "approved" operating costs.

Trustee Larry Jones expressed alarm at the reversal of department procedure which, he said, makes the superintendent a "budget czar."

He said the procedure outlined in the new education finance formula will by-pass city councils and rural representatives, and that their ultimate consideration will be but a "gesture of courtesy."

The school board plans construction of a new elementary school at Quarterway, and reconstruction of three other school buildings.

Pays $250 to Bogus Realtors

NANAIMO (CP)—American real estate racketeers have fleeced a Nanaimo businessman of $250, Chamber of Commerce members were told here.

Hugh Wilson told fellow members he had been informed that a city businessman had recently received a proposal from a Tacoma, Wash., real estate firm, offering to sell his business.

Shortly afterwards two men visited him. They examined books, took photographs of the premises, then collected $250 to publish a brochure.

The businessman has not heard from the Tacoma firm since. A letter he wrote them at the address appearing on their letterhead was returned with a post office notation, "moved—no forwarding address."

RCAF Interceptor Will Rule Skies Over Comox Airport.

LONG-AWAITED JET ARRIVES

Airport Crew Welcomes CF-100

COMOX (CP)—One of the long-awaited all-weather CF-100 jet planes arrived at Comox RCAF station Thursday.

Piloted by Sqdn. Ldr. Frank Haley, the jet took 60 minutes to fly from Nanaimo, near Edmonton, to Comox, FO. William Henderson was co-pilot.

Personnel of Squadron 409 turned out at Comox to greet the interceptor jet.

First to welcome Sqdn. Ldr. Haley was Group Capt. R. C. Weston, commanding officer of the Comox station.

Sqdn. Ldr. Haley is officer commanding the newly organized 409 jet fighter squadron.

Due to the time difference between Edmonton and Comox, the speedy jet arrived at almost the same time as it took off.

The interceptors have been expected for months at the Comox airport, but schedule changes and poor flying weather interrupted the program regularly. Others are expected here eventually.

The controversial aircraft now is considered one of the best of its type.

Gordon Head Airpark Property To Be Taken Over by Army

Council Learns of Move When Deleted Item on Agenda Questioned by Ald. Smith

City airpark property at Gordon Head is to be taken over by the Department of National Defense, it was learned at a city council meeting Thursday.

The information was given by the mayor during an exchange with Ald. Don Smith on the subject of secrecy.

An item concerning the 57.6 acre airpark had been linked out of printed agenda before Thursday's meeting and Ald. Smith wanted to know why.

"There is a rumor, more than a rumor, that the land will be required for Her Majesty's service," said the mayor.

Council had abandoned plans to use the airpark as such, early in January, and recently has been studying methods of disposal. The land was purchased from the federal government for $20,000 in 1947. It was agreed that it would only be used for aeronautical purposes.

SUBDIVISION SOUGHT
Now, by paying Ottawa an additional $10,000 council hoped to have these strings removed and the land made available for subdivision and sale.

Ald. Smith opposed this move, holding it to be illegal. He wanted the land held at least until another site were found for a helicopter landing field. He demanded an opinion on could be heard only if council so decided.

"It's always been common practice to ask for reports at one meeting and get them at the next," argued Ald. Smith.

But the mayor stood firm. So Ald. Smith made a motion that council hear the solicitor's report. There was no seconder.

"Then may I see the report myself?" he asked. "It's apparently quite a secret when you can't get a report." He was assured he could.

But the report was not available to press. Said Mr. Patton, "If they don't want it (the airpark) back, that will be time to give the opinion."

It was revealed earlier that on their return from Korea, the Queen's Own Rifles will be stationed at Gordon Head. The airpark is considered a possible site for extension of barracks or training facilities.

Only five aldermen were present during the discussion. Ald. Robert Macmillan had gone earlier due to flu. Ald. W. F. Pinfold is holidaying in Hawaii and Ald. Arthur Dowell in the southern United States.

REPORT WANTED

He told the mayor, "I'd like to hear the report. I see no reason for keeping it secret." But the mayor said the opinion

7-Man Board For Library Now Complete

Recent aldermanic candidate Miss Jane Hall and B.C. forester Harold McWilliams were named to Victoria Library Board by city council Thursday.

Nominee Miss Lola Maxwell, city high school teacher, lost out by a 4-3 vote to Miss Hall.

Mr. McWilliams was elected to a two-year term, Miss Hall for one year. The elections followed a recent council decision to increase the board from five to seven seats.

Three members were elected at the last council meeting. They were Ald. Austin Curtis, former alderman Frank Muller and last year chairman, J. E. Neely. Capt. D. J. Proudfoot and Professor Robert Wallace are in the last year of a two-year term.

The board delayed election of a 1955 chairman and appointment of committees until the appointments were complete.

Miss Hall was nominated by Ald. Brent Murdoch, Mr. McWilliams by Ald. Millard Mooney and Miss Maxwell by Ald. Robert Macmillan. Mr. McWilliams appointment was by acclamation.

COULD HINDER CURES

Freeze on Hospital Budgets Criticized

Provincial government's holdthe-line order on hospital budgets could prevent sick persons from receiving modern drugs,

Dr. Larry Giovando (Ind.-Nainimo The Islands) charged Thursday.

Dr. Giovando said the cost of new medicines when they first appear on the market is prohibitive.

"The freeze order on hospital budgets could hinder the use of some of these medicines," he said, "because of their high initial cost."

He said hospital budgets throughout the province were frozen at the 1952 level by Health Minister Eric Martin, through the B.C. Hospital Inurance Service.

Dr. Giovando quoted a resolution passed by the executive of the Canadian Medical Association, B.C. Branch, condemning the freeze.

"The freeze-up policy disregards in a blunt, unrealistic manner the year by year improvement in the standard of hospital care," the resolution stated.

"It (the order) is detrimental to good hospital and medical care, and invites subterfuge, because B.C.H.S. has not yet sterilized hospital initiative. Ways will be found by conscientious hospital administrators and directors to circumvent any order that halts progress."

OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

Steelhead angling is getting more popular every year and the B.C. Game Commission is seeking to enlist the aid of all steelhead anglers to ensure good fishing in the future.

The commission has printed and distributed steelhead cards which are available at most sporting goods stores in town. Any angler who intends to go after steelies this winter is asked to pick one up and co-operate by following the printed instructions on the card.

Boyd

So it is with the commission, who want anglers to catch more, bigger and livelier steelhead.

To meet this end, the men in charge must know as much about the life habits and needs of a steelhead as they would a member of their own family. What kind of water does the steelhead prefer, which rivers are the most suitable, how much time does the steelie spend in the river, what is the expected life span, how much weight does the steelhead add in a year? These are questions that must be answered before improvements can be made. Thus the steelhead report cards.

On the cards are places for the dates of your steelhead trips, the rivers fished and the observance of any marked (fins clipped) fish. From the welter of information garnered throughout the province by these cards, proper action will be taken. Perhaps the commission's findings will result in your favorite stream being stocked.

Pick up your card today. You'll be doing yourself a service.

The Victoria Fish and Game Association will be holding its first general meeting of the new year Monday at 8 in the Goldstream clubhouse. Members will meet the new executive and hear the plans for this year's projects, which are considerable. Guest speaker will be R. H. Mackay of the Dominion Wildlife Office for B.C. He will speak on the controversial brant question, which brings up an argument every time two gun-wielders meet. A Ducks Unlimited film will be shown on migratory birds.

A fresh run of steelhead hit the lower end of Cowichan this week and fishing was good up to and including Wednesday. What this whacky weather will do to it remains to be seen. Bobby Bell beached a seven-pounder on Sunday and tied on to three others he was unable to hold. Duncan sporting goods man Bucky Kennett landed an 11-pounder Sunday and lost one more. Jim Burdick brought home a seven-pounder on the same day. On Monday, Bernie Falkenberg hooked and lost a fish but on Tuesday he got the nod over a seven-pounder. Bill Martin beached a 14-pounder on Wednesday. Fish were being taken from the Highway Bridge and upstream.

The 1953 Provincial Game Commission report is out now and, morbid though it may be, some of the most interesting information is to be found on page 66, which contains information on hunting and fishing accidents in the province in 1953. Reading under the column entitled "Cause of Accident" leaves one with the impression that there are very few "accidents" as such. Consider this list of causes and see if you agree: Careless handling of rifle; accidentally in line of fire; mistaken for moose; discharge of rifle while same being loaded; in line of fire while shooting pheasants; mauled by tame deer; careless handling of shotgun while beaching boat.

Up-Island Cage Clubs Advance in Playdowns

Chemainus juvenile boys won the lower Island semi-final basketball championship by defeating McMorrans, 64-54, in the second game of a two-game, total-point series at Sooke Thursday night.

The up-Island club won the opening game, 62-40, to take the series by 32 points and earn the right to meet Ace Plumbers in the lower-Island final.

D. Samuelson, with 33 points, sparked the winners to a 31-24 lead at half-time. Lake Cowichan juvenile girls

Sno-Birds To Visit Deer Park

By A. SLALOM

Mount Brenton was the scene of the Sno-Birds' first ski competition Sunday as 15 skiers took part in a one and one-half mile cross-country race.

Erwin Egger, Sno-Bird member, took first prize. He was clocked in 17 minutes; second was Karl Ricker, Nanaimo Ski Club, 17 minutes, 10 seconds; third, Van van Deusen, Royal Roads, 17 minutes, 20 seconds.

Visitors included members from Nanaimo, who hiked into the Sno-Birds' cabin through a heavy snowfall. At least six inches of snow fell over Mount Brenton slopes, which was pretty well packed down by over 40 energetic members.

Plans now are being made to visit Deer Park, Washington, this week-end for Victoria Day, Feb. 13. Those interested in joining the Sno-Bird group, please phone Audrey Emery at 2-9083 for details.

A big enough crowd ensures a substantial reduction on the boat fare to Port Angeles... and you're sure of having a lot of fun, too! Don't miss this once-a-year event, featuring a jumping exhibition, slalom race, and instructors' competition! Make your arrangements by tonight—and we'll see you on skis!

Vs Rose to Prominence From Humble Beginning

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—The Cinderella story of the Penticton Vs began a little more than three years ago. The beginnings were humble.

Vs made their debut with a makeshift team in October, 1951—and finished last in the Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

There was little to indicate that next season they would reach the finals for the Allan Cup, that in 1954 they would climax a comeback-studded playoff trail by winning the cup or that this spring they would be chosen to represent Canada in the World Hockey Championships in Germany Feb. 25-March 6.

Vs, named for victory, valiant and vidette varieties of peaches grown in the Okanagan valley, did all these things.

Team officials estimate this year's squad is 30 per cent stronger than last season's Allan Cup-winning club.

Three new faces are in the lineup. Most notable is defenseman Hal Tarala, who came to the Vs from the WHL.

Other newcomers are Mike Shabaga, who played with Trail Smoke Eaters of the Western International amateur loop last season, and Ed Kassian from Saskatoon Quakers of the WHL.

Noted for their roughhouse style of play, Vs are capable of adapting themselves to any type of hockey.

Playing-coach Grant Warwick, Jim Fairburn, Jack McIntyre and Dick Warwick are all small men who thrive on wide-open hockey.

Jack Macdonald, Ernie Rucks, Bill Warwick, Don Berry and Doug Kilburn are tireless skaters.

Goalkeeper Ivan McLelland is one of the steadiest in amateur

THIS WEEK'S REPORT: TED TO REJOIN BOSOX

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Daily Record says in a copyright story that Ted Williams "is returning to the Red Sox" and will join the team "about March 10."

"Although Ted has not yet notified the Red Sox of his impending return," the story adds, "he is expected to make his official announcement in about 10 days."

This is the latest of a series of speculative reports, all of which have been met by this stock comment by Joe Cronin, Red Sox general manager:

"We have mailed Ted a contract and we haven't heard from him."

FRANK STACK RETIRES

New Star Appears On Skating Front

SASKATOON (CP)—The retirement of a legendary figure and the arrival of a new young star may be the most significant points of interest when the Olympic speed skating trials are staged Saturday and Sunday at Saskatoon's Griffiths Stadium.

Frank Stack, 50-year-old competitor from Winnipeg, has notified officials of the Olympic trials that his name be removed from the list of entries. He will be in attendance as coach of a four-man squad from the Manitoba capital.

The withdrawal of Stack, a three-time Olympic competitor, cuts the list of entries to 16 for the four events. Three skaters will receive berths on the Canadian team which travels to Italy for the winter Olympics in February, 1956.

Pulp Mills Soon Will Lose Noisome Odor, House Told

Vancouver Island pulp mills may soon lose their "objectionable odor," Trade and Industry Minister Ralph Chetwynd told the legislature Thursday.

Mr. Chetwynd said the staff of the B.C. Research Council has been successful in eliminating all odors from the pulp mill at Port Alberni.

"This odor, as you know, has been the cause of some concern, and I am sure residents of the district will be very pleased with the result of research in this direction," said Mr. Chetwynd.

"Now that the problem has been successfully solved with the Alberni, it is quite possible other pulp mills on the Island and elsewhere in the province will institute the same treatment," he said.

The minister also revealed that each year some official will be sent to the United Kingdom and Europe on a trade mission similar to that undertaken last summer by Einar Gunderson.

Mr. Chetwynd personally will visit the Continent in April, when the Vancouver Board of Trade makes a "trail-blazer" flight over the North Pole via Canadian Pacific Airlines.

He said the personal contacts will be for reiterating "Mr. Einar Gunderson's pronouncements that we buy where we sell."

Arm in Pork-Barrel CCFer Tells House

The Social Credit Party Thursday was charged with putting the squeeze on big business for campaign funds.

Frank Howard (CCF, Skeena) told the Legislature the Socrads have spent "$2,500,000 on elections, and various advertising programs."

"You've got your arm in the pork barrel right up to the armpits," said Mr. Howard. "You don't get that kind of money from the people."

"The B.C. Electric said vote Social Credit," interjected Arthur Turner (CCF, Vancouver East). "How about Kaiser?" shouted another opposition member.

"No wonder the Liberals are mad at you," continued Howard. "You're getting it all now."

The CCF member also criticized the appointment of former Social Credit finance minister to the directorate of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

CANNOT SERVE BOTH

"Either this chap will serve the people, or he will serve the vested banking interests," said Mr. Howard. He said it is evident in view of Mr. Gunderson's appointment, that "the main officials of this government will have no truck with monetary theories" of Social Credit.

"Here is this man, appointed to one of the banks that you Social Crediters despise," he said. "This government obviously has no intention of adhering to Social Credit monetary theories."

HIS HONOR BROKE LAW

Offered Indian a Drink CCF Member Discloses

The Legislature Thursday was told how Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace broke the law by offering a drink to a native Indian, while the RCMP looked on.

Frank Howard, the CCF MLA from Skeena, brought the incident to light. He said that when Lieutenant-Governor Wallace offered Frank Calder (CCF, Atlin) a drink at a dinner at Government House he was breaking the law.

"The RCMP was there, and they knew he was breaking the law, too," said Mr. Howard.

He said the incident pointed up the need for provincial government action to have the federal government amend the Indian Act.

"Let this government take the initiative and ask that this discriminatory act be changed," said Mr. Howard. "I can't even have my friend from Atlin into my house and offer him a drink without breaking the law."

"Let us give complete freedom to the native Indian people."

Council Rejects Change in Zoning

City council ruled against a zoning change Thursday which would have permitted construction of a flower warehouse at Quadra and Kings. Town Planning Commission held that the lot was zoned for apartments and thought nearby property would be affected if the change were made to commercial. A city real estate firm informed council the lot was wanted for a flower wholesale.

Victoria Athletic Commission asked council permission Thursday to donate $25 to the Ken Griffiths Fund. The matter was referred to finance committee for action.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

The chairman of the Town Planning Commission said yesterday future government buildings may be built some place other than Victoria.

Ever alert to the needs of British Columbia and the interests of Vancouver Island, Between Times immediately contacted Our Very Own Island Digest Correspondents, asking if their towns would like to have future government buildings.

Their replies (as writ by hand) follow.

WALLOPEM BEACH—Why sure for sure we would like a government building. The only government building we have now is the liquor store, and that is sure for sure popular so I guess any other government buildings would be welcome too.

However, it is still the off-season here, like, so any government buildings coming here would be well advised to do so a little later, when the fishing is better.

BUMBLE HILL—Why is Victoria trying to get rid of its government buildings at the expense of its progressive citizens of Bumble Hill why this is an insult to even ask what would we do with a government building if we had one we had enough trouble with Lem's barn raising you remember he got caught under the roof-tree keep your old government buildings.

P.S. If the government really wants to help us, Lem's barn is still missing a few shingle nails does this come under the heading of agricultural relief or what? Thank you.

LUNCHVILLE—Lunchville is pretty well built up now but perhaps we could work in one small government building somewhere if we tried really hard. You see, most of the good locations on the Highway are already taken, what with the Dew Drop Inn, The Kozzy Koffee, Kup, and Old Mother Klatzowsky's Genuine Indian Relics & Artifacts Shoppe.

But maybe we could find room for a government building with frontage on the Highway, except the government is moving the Highway. What do you advise? We are anxious to help.

GOON CENTRE—Mr. Abner Goon, the leading citizen of Goon Centre, has your query under advisement at the moment. He wishes to consider it fully before rendering a decision.

Mrs. Goon is suffering from a severe attack of laryngitis, which is why Mr. Goon's mind has not been made up as yet.

Meanwhile, what is a government building? In fact, what is a government?

(Ed. Note: The above reply is from our Goon Centre correspondent, Mrs. Abner Goon).

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Business and Professional Women's Club meets Monday at 8 p.m. in the clubrooms, 904 Government, for a business session.

Third in a series of provincial museum technical talks will be held at 8 p.m. next Friday, with Hugh Smith, B.C. department of mines, speaking on "Glaciation." This meeting was originally scheduled for tonight.

Exceeding a 50 miles-per-hour speed limit brought a $35 fine for Fritz Adolf, 621 Hillside, when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich. Police said the accused was paced at 70 for one mile while travelling south on Douglas Jan. 28.

Holly L. Meadows, 664 Keneth Street, and Dennis G. J.

DROODLES

Like all of us, a bug on a waffle has his ups and downs! If you think that's a bad joke you should hear some of the ones I rejected. In fact, here is one of the ones I rejected: Two water bugs were in a garbage can and one peeked over the top and said, "Hey, Oliver, look at this spic and span kitchen. I never saw a sink so dazzling white or a floor so sparkling clean!" and the other water bug said, "please, not while I'm eating!" Certain editors may claim this is an old joke, but I am not deterred because I believe in free speech. I'm often told I indulge in more free speech than anyone in the country and that that is exactly what it's worth. To these wrong thinkers I can only say, "oh yeah!"

WAFLE NO DRINKING

2-YEAR SENTENCE WILL STAND COURT TELLS SAANICH RESIDENT

In a two-to-one judgment, the B.C. Court of Appeal Thursday dismissed the case of Vernon Umphrey, of Saanich, who appealed against a conviction and sentence arising out of a breaking and entering charge.

Justices H. W. Davey and Sidney Smith dismissed the appeal, with Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran dissenting. Umphrey appealed against a conviction of breaking into the premises of Brackman-Ker on November 18. He was sentenced by Judge J. B. Clearhue to two years imprisonment.

Women's Group Asks Curb on Liquor Ads

Cabinet Holds Special Sitting Tonight To Hear Brief From Provincial Council

A demand that the provincial government take action to prohibit all liquor advertising within its jurisdiction will be heard by the B.C. cabinet during a special session tonight.

The resolution was one passed by the Provincial Council of Women during the council's 36th annual convention at the Empress Hotel Thursday. It will be taken before cabinet by 35 council delegates headed by Provincial president Mrs. H. S. Armstrong of Vancouver.

The resolution said the council believes "elimination of the use of alcohol as a beverage is essential to the highest development of the mental, spiritual and physical powers of the human race."

MORE INCOME

Council delegates will urge the cabinet to lift the allowable income for persons receiving old age pension bonuses—from $720 to $1,000 for single persons, and $1,000 to $1,500 for married couples, "or equal to income tax exemption as allowed from time to time."

Amendments will be sought to the Administration Act, to give widows the entire estate of the deceased in intestate succession where there is no issue.

Changes will also be asked in the Deserted Wives and Children Act, to make possible reciprocal agreements with other parts of the country in bringing back deserting husbands, and to place deserting husbands on probation at the original hearing.

Another resolution demands provincial legislation against discrimination, similar to that now in use in Ontario and Saskatchewan.

"We believe that the disunity in Canada has its roots in race prejudice," the council said.

Gagliardi to Probe Hiking Speed Limit to 60 MPH

Public Works Minister Gagliardi will seek information on lifting the speed limit on restricted sections of B.C.'s highway network to 60 miles an hour.

No definite plans have been laid down for the speed limit increase, but discussions are underway with the RCMP, which controls traffic on highways in the province.

The speed boost would only affect long, unrestricted road sections, where the driver has a clear view ahead.

At the same time, Mr. Gagliardi reiterated his year-old plans for a 10-year, $35,000,000 highway building program in the Lower Mainland, including a four-lane highway on the Trans-Canada route through the Fraser Valley to Hope, and a two-lane highway to Hope on the north side of the Fraser.

Runners-up were Jack Sutherland and David Hawthorn. The winner will represent his club in the Victoria area contest in March in which five local Toastmaster clubs will take part.

Only a few mothers are still needed to canvass small areas in Fairfield, James Bay, North Hillside, Lake Hill and Ten Mile Point next Saturday evening in B.C. Polio Fund's "Mother's March on Polio."

Vic-Van Isle Kinsmen, sponsors of the drive, report 19 out of 25 districts completely covered.

In city police court today Marcel Andrew Myette, Victoria, was remanded in custody to Feb. 15 for sentence on a charge of theft of scrap metal under $25 value.

Court was told the accused took the metal from a railway car Feb. 3.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 at McCall Bros. Chapel, with Rev. Douglas B. Carr officiating. Interment will be at Colwood Burial Park.

He is survived by his wife Sarah Irene; two sons, Ivan at Kimberley and Jack of Victoria; also two grandsons.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 at McCall Bros. Chapel, with Rev. Douglas B. Carr officiating. Interment will be at Colwood Burial Park.

31 Realtors To Pool Home, Other Listings

New Plan Starts Next Monday

Beginning next Monday, 31 Victoria real estate firms will pool their homes and commercial property listings.

Final machinery has been set in place for the operation of a Multiple Listing Bureau which is an offshoot of the Greater Victoria Real Estate Board.

The board launched investigation into the "pool system" last spring and originally intended to implement the new selling method at the beginning of the year.

Legal procedures and other necessary steps, which could not be rushed, were responsible for the delay.

MEETING HELD

The 180 agents and salesmen who work for the 31 co-operating companies were given complete information on how the bureau will function at a meeting Thursday night at the Empress Hotel.

The new service will mean that a person approaching one of the 31 companies with a house or business to sell will have his listing "processed" by that firm and then turned over to the pool.

Within a matter of days, each of the 180 salesmen will have a circular giving full details of the listing, complete with picture.

SUCCESS ELSEWHERE

The multiple-listing system has proved successful in many other major cities. In Vancouver, close to $12,000,000 worth of property was sold in this manner last year. Some realtors in Vancouver have said this figure may reach the $50,000,000 mark in the near future.

The Multiple Listing Bureau of Victoria has been registered as a separate entity at the Parliament Buildings but firms cannot participate in the plan unless they are members of the Victoria Real Estate Board.

Only three board members have not joined the bureau.

James Taylor, Victoria High School engineer, said a car radio valued at $80 was stolen from his car while parked at rear of the school some time between 6 and 9:15 p.m.

Taken from an auto owned by Frederick Carpenter, 616 Garry Road, while parked outside his home, was a pair of $7 gloves and $5 worth of small tools.

Theft was reported about 8:30 p.m.

Thieves Make Haul From Two Parked Cars

Thief of articles from two parked cars was reported to city police overnight.

James Taylor, Victoria High School engineer, said a car radio valued at $80 was stolen from his car while parked at rear of the school some time between 6 and 9:15 p.m.

Taken from an auto owned by Frederick Carpenter, 616 Garry Road, while parked outside his home, was a pair of $7 gloves and $5 worth of small tools.

Theft was reported about 8:30 p.m.

Customs Agent Has Testimony On Force of Oxford Group

"O coward conscience, how thou dost afflict me," people—a number of grisly murders in fact—but skullduggery in any degree can spark that affliction, as a Victoria citizen found out this week.

It was nothing as bad as murder, just a little matter of unpaid customs duty, but the citizen was in the same boat as King Dick when the latter continued:

"My conscience hath a thousand several tongues And every tongue brings in a several tale And every tale condemns me for a villain."

Result of this nagging was that G. A. Yardley, collector of customs and excise for Victoria received Wednesday $12 in currency sent through the mail in an envelope addressed in hand-printed capital letters.

"No it doesn't happen very often nowadays," said Mr. Yardley, adding wistfully, "but back in the 1930's we used to get conscience money about once a month. It was when the Oxford Group were here. I wish they'd come back."

Shawnigan Lake Timber Stand Sale Unfair, Claims Seattle Woman

A Seattle woman claimed in a Supreme Court civil suit today that a Victoria firm of timber cruisers fraudulently or negligently misrepresented to her the value of timber on her 500 acres of land situated west of Shawnigan Lake.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Myrtle L. Whitehead, is suing Hibbertson Timber Co. Ltd., 723 Fort Street, for damages arising out of an agreement for the sale of timber on her property. The case is being heard before Mr. Justice A. M. Manson.

Mrs. Whitehead alleges in her suit that the firm was her agent, and advised her in 1948 to sell the timber to Fred Wood of Shawnigan Lake for the sum of $600. The firm previously informed her, she said, that the timber was of little value.

J. A. Byers, counsel for the plaintiff, claimed that Mr. Wood cut over 1,000,000 board feet of the property.

It is denied by the firm that such a large amount of timber was cut off the land. The company further pointed out that at the time they advised Mrs. Whitehead to sell the timber the price of lumber was not high.

To prove their point, it was shown that in 1947 the price of timber was $38 a 1,000, but by 1951 lumber prices soared to $68 a 1,000.

Defendants claim that the sale agreement was based on the price of timber for that year.

The case is continuing. Allan Baker is counsel for the defendant.

City to Receive $1,000 Yearly For Track Land

Elk Lake Rental Agreement Reached

Victoria City will be paid close to $1,000 a year for Elk Lake race track property which will be turned over to Island Turf Company on a 30-year lease.

Other details ironed out at City Hall at noon today, stipulate that the track be responsible for a complete sewage program and that only timber which is in the track area may be cut.

TIMES FASHION COLUMNIST Mrs. Nona Damaske will act as chaperone in the Queen Contest—winner of which will compete for the Miss Canada title in London, Ont.—during Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Products Fair here May 27. Her job will be to assist girls in preparations for the event, scheduled for last day of fair when winner will be crowned Miss Victoria.

Jaycees will pay expenses of winner to east for national event. Winner will be judged on both talent and prettiness. Already 50 per cent of floor space in the Arena and Curling Rink has been sold for show. (Times photo.)

Remand Ordered On Retaining Count

Clifford Charles Foot, 30, 3131 Delta Street, was remanded to Wednesday for sentence in city police court today when found guilty on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

Foot was charged with receiving six radios, property of Northern Electric Co. Ltd., 1950 Blanshard.

The radios were later identified in court as part of the loot taken in a $1,579 burglary of the electrical premises Jan. 14.

NO OPINION

Saanich recently passed a "control by-law" which reeve Casey believes can halt any construction at Elk Lake if residents or council so desire. Asked what was the firm's opinion of the legality of this by-law, neither Mr. Lochead or Mr. Dryer would give an opinion.

"We have no quarrel with Saanich," they said and promised to co-operate with that municipality as far as possible.

Theft Admitted From Union Club

William Hugh Robinson, 40, no fixed address, was remanded to February 18 in city police court today for sentence on a charge of theft over $25.

He pleaded guilty to taking a raincoat, hat and gloves, total value of which was $36, Wednesday from the Union Club, Humboldt Street.

Greenhouse Men's Protests Taken to House

Tisdalle Promises Assessment Action

Protest of Vancouver Island Greenhouse Operators' Association against a steep jump in assessments has been carried to the provincial legislature by Saanich MLA John Tisdalle.

Mr. Tisdalle Thursday served notice he will move that the entire matter of "taxation of greenhouses be referred to the standing committee of municipal affairs."

In a brief to Mr. Tisdalle, the association representing some 200 greenhouse operators of Greater Victoria, claimed the government's new assessments of greenhouses is discriminatory and have not been based on the actual values of the buildings.

It warned that increased taxes on greenhouses might result in the bankruptcy of the entire industry which is at present facing stiff competition from imported greenhouse flowers and vegetables from the United States.

The association requested that the entire industry be classified as part of farming. This would mean a reduction in assessments.

At present only operators who own five and more acres are classified as farmers, and will enjoy the benefit of lower taxes. The majority of greenhouse operators, however, have less than five acres of land.

Handicapped Plan Trip to Seattle

Victoria Handicapped League meets tonight at 7:30 in Dominion Hotel board room to name delegates to Seattle Goodwill Industries Ltd.

Date of the trip will be decided. Fred Blakeney, league president, said.

The Seattle group, composed of about 200 handicapped persons, invited members of the Victoria league to tour its plant which provides work for employable handicapped.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Was a court of justice, like the "Star Chamber" of English history, ever in existence in our Parliament Buildings in Victoria, and was at least one political prisoner tried and incarcerated in a cell there?

T. L. H.

Q.—The Legislative Assembly of B.C. (as do the elected parliamentary bodies throughout the Commonwealth) has the right to imprison persons for contempt of the legislature. The most notable B.C. instance occurred during the 1892 session, when the two Kennedy brothers, publishers of the Columbian, New Westminster, were imprisoned April 17 to 23, for refusing to come before the bar of the House when summoned as a result of printed accusations against the Private Bills Committee. They were held in a room in the legislative buildings, as such prisoners are not sent to the common jails.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

DOUKHOBOR SINGERS from Grand Forkes will be billeted with residents throughout Greater Victoria area when they arrive here for concert at Oak Bay Junior High School auditorium Feb. 21. All Orthodox Doukhobors, who oppose extreme views of the Sons of Freedom, they hope to portray their cultural contribution to Canada, and to meet individual residents of Vancouver Island towns in privacy of own homes.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Flavorsome Vegetables Will Spruce Up Meals

By PENNY SAVER

Time to go scouting around for vegetables and things again. With the sun shining so bravely, let's try some salads over the week-end. And what good is a salad without green onions? For 10 cents, you can buy nippy and crisp little green onions that will smarten up that salad as quick as a wink. Or how about trying them all chopped up finely and sprinkled in or on Sunday's whipped potatoes? They'll taste super.

Something else that really brightens up a meal is a touch of my favorite... mushrooms. In gravy, fried, broiled or just any way, they are good enough to make a whole meal in themselves. They cost 77 cents a pound. And well worth every penny.

California broccoli is still around... at 27 cents a pound. Most of us have our own special ways of preparing broccoli, but I'm convinced (naturally) that a cream cheese sauce poured over them makes them taste like sheer ambrosia.

The whole business of cooking and preparing vegetables can be a real chore unless an idea or two on how to make them different and appetizing is worked into the menu. That's why I think you'd like spinach even more served with a little variety.

Hard-boiled eggs, sliced and placed alongside or on top of the spinach on a flat platter dresses up the whole dish so that you hear many requests for second helpings. Spinach is selling at 25 cents a pound, either in cellophane packages, or in the "just-picked" state.

Locally grown beets looked awfully appetizing too. They're selling at 15 cents for two bunches.

I came across some unusual oranges today. They're called Tangelo oranges, and from what I could find out, they're a cross between a tangerine and a grapefruit. They peel just like a tangerine, but have a thicker skin, the same color as any other orange.

At 9 cents each they're cheaper than the regular oranges, which are selling at 6 for 59 cents. Let's see, the tangelo oranges would be 6 for 54 cents. Well, let's really experiment! I tried one and I liked it very much. Try to imagine biting into a sweet tangerine, and in to a semi-sweet grapefruit, and there you have the tangelo. I think you'll enjoy it.

I saw white turnips in town today, too. They're going at 25 cents a bunch. Let's try some for tonight's dinner.

Morning Wedding

A charming bridal couple repeated vows at the foot of the altar in St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning, when Jocelyn Patricia Luchinsky and Walter Freeman Buchan were wed.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Luchinsky, 1277 Oscar Street, and the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Buchan, 231 Wark Street, were dressed in twin-tone charcoal grey suits.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore pink and black accessories and carried a black bouquet of pink carnations centred with a white orchid. Rev. Father M. O'Connell officiated, and Miss M. McKay played traditional organ music.

Only attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Daphne Luchinsky, who wore a winter white suit with aqua and brown accessories, and carried white carnations. Best man was Daniel Christian, while Robert Brown and Douglas Finch acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents at 2311 Wark Street. Guests were received by the bride couple and Mrs. Luchinsky, wearing a Bermuda brown dress with accessories in tone, and Mrs. Buchan, in a rose dress with blue accessories.

A three-tier wedding-cake in yellow and white centred the bridal table and was flanked by yellow candles in silver holders. Arrangements of Japanese plum blossoms and yellow daffodils decorated the table and rooms. The traditional toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. B. Ryall.

For a wedding trip Up-Island, the bride wore the white bridal orchid from her bouquet, and donned a grey cashmere coat in tone with her wedding outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Buchan will live at 115 Princess on their return.

Baby Girl Baptized

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mato Martin Andric, Glen Lake, was baptized Sunday afternoon in St. Richard's Church, Langford, with Father W. J. O'Brien officiating. Mr. Gerald McDonald and Miss Jean McDonald stood proxy for the godparents who are the baby's uncle, Mr. Charles Michael Roche, and aunt, Mrs. Donald O'Shea, both of Montreal. Susan Marlene are the names the child received.

Wedding Guests

Visitors in Victoria for the Luchinsky-Buchan wedding which took place at 11 this morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral, are Mrs. N. Bowron and son, David, of Duncan; Miss Norma Bowron, from University of British Columbia; Miss Anne Luchene of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. C. Powell of Seattle; and Mrs. J. Staback of Calgary.

From Out of Town

Out-of-town guests who will be attending the wedding of Miss Elsie Brown and Mr. Knute Johnson, Saturday, are Mr. and Mrs. K. Stewart, and daughter, Janet, of Vancouver; Mrs. L. Chiles and son, David; and Mrs. Ida Johnson, all of Seattle, Wash.

Cumberland Wedding Couple Will Make Home in Victoria

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dando, Cumberland, B.C., announce the marriage of their only daughter, Margaret Lesley, to Robert Davies Taylor, only son of Mrs. V. M. Taylor, Victoria, B.C. The wedding took place in the Cumberland Anglican Church, with Rev. Chappell officiating.

The lovely auburn-haired bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a ballerina-length gown of white-nylon embroidered net and wore a shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was red roses.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Anna Golitz, wore a Royal blue net dress with a tiara and shoes of the same color and carried pink carnations. The groom's best man was Frank Gower, Victoria, and the usher Harold Van Essen, also from Victoria.

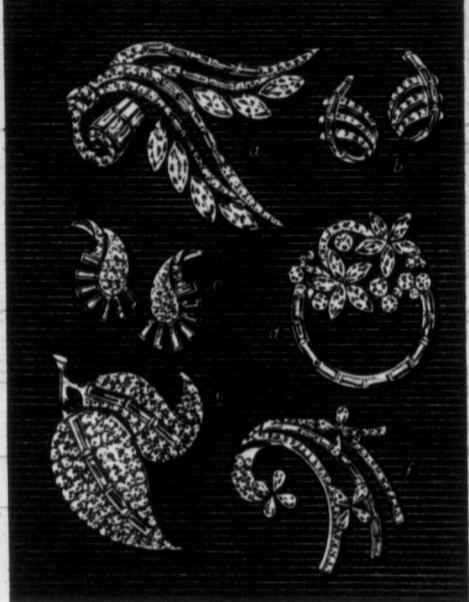

A small reception was held at the Dando home in Cumberland, which was decorated with early spring flowers for the occasion. Toast to the bride was given by Dr. E. R. Hicks, Cumberland.

Too Many Duties Can Tax Child's Strength

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

How much work should young boys and girls do at home on school days if they are to do good work in school and be healthy? A mother writes:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I have a daughter, 12 years old, who is our only child. Her father tells me I'm spoiling her because, when she comes home from school—she is in junior high—I don't make her do work around the house. I am not doing this to spoil her, but it seems to me that she works hard enough in school all day. When she comes home I want her to go out and get fresh air. After supper she's got to do her homework, and at 9 o'clock, I want her to go to bed. Please tell me if I'm wrong or right."

(A)—I think you are absolutely right about not expecting your daughter to help with housework after a long day in school. If you were sick or some emergency arose, it would be a different story.

With only three in the family, the housework should not be too heavy for you unless you have a job that keeps you away from home all day. Under such conditions, not only your daughter but your husband should help you.

A girl of 12 is in a rapid-growth period of her life. Much of her strength and energy goes into growing, both in size and in her internal development. Overtaxing her strength at that time can lead to a breakdown, anemia, tuberculosis, or any number of other physical ailments.

On week-ends and during vacation periods it would be wise to ask your daughter to help with the housework. Every girl should know how to take over the management of the home, should her mother be ill or be called away from home by the illness of a relative.

At times when she is not going to school, you will not have to feel that your daughter is overtaxing her strength if you ask her to do several hours of work spread out over the day. You and she can decide what tasks she will assume and make it a pleasant experience for her, not a duty.

Softness is femininity, let no tailored suit fan argue with that. The softest thing this side of a kitten is chiffon draped like the richest of jerseys. With a shirred top or a Grecian waist, it flows in folds like no other fabric.

Two Rings Exchanged in Woodward-McIntyre Rites

A double ring wedding took place on Friday evening, Feb. 4, in Fairfield United Church, when Rev. William Allan, assisted by Rev. T. Haythorne, solemnized the marriage of Elizabeth Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. McIntyre, 662 Oliver Street, and Kenneth Buxton Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Woodward, of 2833 Scott Street. The church was decorated with white stocks, calla lilies and white chrysanthemums.

The fair-haired bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of filmy nylon net over white satin, styled with Chantilly lace bodice and fitted lace jacket. A nylon net finger-veil fell from a Juliet cap of lacy pink roses and lily of the valley, centred with gardenias, completed her lovely ensemble.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Margaret Tront, as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of coral net over tulle featuring a lace bodice, over which was worn a lace jacket with cape sleeves. Her headdress was of pleated tulle and tiny flowers. She carried a Colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations centred with a white rose.

The groom had his brother, Robert Woodward, Edmonton, as best man. Donald Barton, cousin of the bride, and Norman Johnson, showed the guests to the pews which were marked with white satin bows.

A reception was held in the lounge of the Oak Bay Beach Hotel where guests were received by Mrs. McIntyre wearing a dress of deep coral with sequin trim and corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Woodward who wore a navy and white ensemble with corsage of American Beauty roses. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered cake set in pink tulle and topped with pink rosebuds and heather. Tall pink tapers in silver candelabra added to the beauty of the arrangement.

A. Allison Campbell, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride.

Renamed Chapter Experiences Encouraging, Profitable Year

At Frances Hornby Barkley Chapter, IODE, annual meeting held in the Lampson Street home of Mrs. A. L. Pearson, regent, Thursday evening, Mrs. J. L. Gates, Victoria Municipal regent and second vice-president of Provincial Chapter, was honored guest. Also invited as special guests were Mrs. H. L. Woolson, Mrs. M. L. Hall and Mrs. N. Ormond.

Secretary's report, given by Mrs. G. Boyd, showed, money-making projects as a series of entertaining evenings, sale of cards and raffles. Realized from these activities was $297.78.

Treasurer's report, by Mrs. C. McAllister, showed total receipts as $350.45, disbursements $322.74. Educational secretary, Mrs. B. Shaw, reported that $37 had been donated to their adopted school, Gillies Bay School, Texada Island, Vancouver, B.C., in the form of books and parcels. A $10 donation was made to the Municipal Golden Jubilee Scholarship fund, and $10 to the Municipal Bursary fund.

A contribution of $138.76 was made to the Victoria Nursing Home to aid in furnishing a sun room. Mrs. J. McPherson in the services at home and abroad report, showed that one project included making quilts, afghans, nursery bags, sweaters and socks, valued at $25.75, to send to England. A donation of $2 was made to the Peace Garden fund.

Other reports given were: Regent, Mrs. A. Pearson; standard bearer, Mrs. J. McPherson for Mrs. P. Bishop; Echoes, Mrs. R. Hallam.

New officers are: Regent, Mrs. A. Pearson; first vice-regent, Mrs. G. Humeston; second, Mrs. G. Edwards; secretary, Mrs. G. Boyd; treasurer, Mrs. C. McAllister; educational secretary, Mrs. B. Shaw;

Echoes, Mrs. R. Hallam; councillors, Mrs. B. Shaw, Mrs. A. Pearson and Mrs. C. McAllister; standard bearer, Mrs. J. McPherson. Honorary regent is Mrs. F. E. Dowdall and honorary vice-regent, Mrs. B. Shaw.

Mrs. J. L. Gates recalled that the chapter was formerly called "Brides of Albion," meaning brides of England. The original members of the chapter were war brides taking up residence in Victoria. Since that time, the members have changed, so that the original members feel that after five or more years in Canada, they are Canadians. Hence, the new name of "Frances Hornby Barkley" Chapter; chosen for its historical meaning in the IODE. A short world-affairs quiz was conducted by the regent, Mrs. Pearson, followed by tea, served by the officers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

13-Year-Old Skips Lunch; She Should Obey Mother

Q—"I am 13 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 123 pounds. My bust measures 34 inches; waist, 25½ inches; and hips, 35½ inches. Are my measurements and weight correct? I think I am fat but by mother does not think so and will not allow me to diet. I do it without letting her know it. I do not eat lunch at school. I think I am very fat. What do you think?"

A—"I think that you are making a great mistake to deceive your mother. This is never fair play. She objects to dieting because she does not want you to injure your health and feels that you need as much food as you can get, since you are developing so rapidly.

Your mother is entirely correct. Your measurements are very good and you really are not overweight. You might lose about five pounds. I do not believe that your mother would object to having you leave off candy and rich desserts until you lose that many pounds, if you eat a well-balanced diet.

Q—"I am 15 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 110 pounds. I know I am overweight. What is the quickest way to lose 15 pounds?"

A—"If you lost 15 pounds you would be far underweight. The perfect weight for your age and height is from 105 to 108 pounds. So, you see at the most you should lose only five pounds. You may not need to lose more than a couple. If you are going to lose any at all do so in the manner I suggested in the answer to the question just before this.

Q—"Will it harm my hair to shampoo it twice a week? Mine gets so oily that I have to do this in order to look well groomed."

A—"No, it will not be injurious to your hair. If you had a very dry scalp then it would be wise to wash it infrequently because the driers decrease the natural oils.

Q—"I am 13 years old and I have very light eyebrows. I would like to use an eyebrow pencil on them but my mother disapproves, and says that I am too young. What do you think?"

A—"I agree with your mother. Wait a few years.

Q—"Last summer I was bitten by mosquitoes and the bites left scars all over my legs. How can I get rid of them?"

A—"I am afraid that you cannot get rid of them except as time fades them. However, you can use Covermark to hide them. You must have scratched the bites until they had scars or you would not now have scars.

Tea to Assist Crippled Persons

A tea will be held in the Douglas Room at Hudson's Bay Company store on Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 4.30 p.m., with proceeds in aid of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada.

LODE GIVES BURSARIES

MONTREAL (CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire will award 11 bursaries of $1,600 each this year to children of service men killed or permanently disabled in the Second World War, it was announced Thursday.

The education grants will be distributed to students in each Canadian province and in the Yukon.

Deplores Lack of Chance For Advancement in Work

OTTAWA (CP)—The greatest problem for working women in Canada is lack of opportunity for advancement, says Marion Royce, recently appointed head of the labor department's women's bureau.

The main task of women with executive ambitions is to change the attitude of both men and other women toward having a woman for a boss, she said.

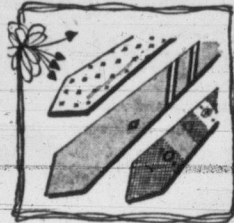

Another question working women ought to give some thought to is the increasing number of married women who continue with their jobs.

There is a possibility that this trend will raise the standard of living in the home so high that the earnings of two people will be required to support it, said Miss Royce.

Central Junior High—A clam-bake and high jinks may be expected on Fathers' Night at Central Junior High next Tuesday at 8 p.m. A musical period will commence at 7.45 p.m.

Saskatchewan Opens Quiet House Session

REGINA (CP) — A light legislative program consisting mainly of amendments to existing statutes was outlined Thursday in the speech from the throne read at the opening of the 1955 session of the Saskatchewan legislature by Lt.-Gov. W. J. Patterson.

No major legislation was predicted.

Of the 14 items listed to come before the House, only one could be interpreted as being a new bill—legislation dealing with fish processing plants. All other items were listed as amendments.

Saskatchewan's crop failure last fall, expected to be the biggest issue of the session, took up a major portion of the throne speech.

Stepping outside provincial boundaries, the speech expressed disappointment with the federal government for not calling a conference to devise long-term marketing schemes for livestock products, similar in principle to the operation of the Canadian wheat board. The speech said the province will continue to press the federal government on the need for construction of the South Saskatchewan River project, a $135,000,000 power and irrigation scheme proposed for central Saskatchewan.

UNEMPLOYMENT SERIOUS

Unemployment has grown to serious proportions in Canada, the speech said. The province would continue to ask a federal-provincial conference on unemployment and would press the federal government to join with provinces and municipalities in public works programs.

The speech asked all Saskatchewan residents to take part in golden jubilee celebrations this year.

Legislation predicted included amendments to the Vehicles Act and the Old Age Security Act to increase the provincial supplementary payments, now $2.50 a month.

Various organizations have protested the Vehicles Act—amended last session—now is unjust because of greatly increased penalties for minor traffic offenses. Debate on increased benefits for the aged caused a split at the CCF provincial convention last July, one group calling for increased federal assistance and the other asking more provincial aid.

DISAPPOINTING CROP

While the 1954 crop was one of the most disappointing experienced and caused a drastic decline in farm income, the Throne Speech noted continued expansion in the province's oil and mining industries.

More than 1,100 oil wells were capable of production and output reached more than 5,000,000 barrels in 1954. Last year saw the second highest number of claims staked—7,290, compared with a record 18,000 the previous year. The claims in good standing totaled more than 20,000.

Seventy companies were active in uranium development in the Beaverlodge area with three firms producing ore and five preparing for production. Excellent interest was shown in potash reserves.

Rowing Club Gets Elk Lake Permit, No 20-Year Lease

Victoria City Rowing Club was granted permission Thursday to use Elk Lake for one year.

But city council referred to public works committee a second request for a 20-year lease on lakeshore property for a clubhouse gym and boathouse. The club wanted to lease land on the west shore for that purpose. They agreed to use no gas motor boats on the lake.

"We must be careful of 20-year leases," said Ald. Brent Murdoch.

Studies Planned On Evacuation

Preliminary plans are under way for federal-provincial-municipal studies of tactical evacuation of Greater Vancouver in the event of enemy attack, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black said yesterday.

The massive studies are to determine some of the problems which would be raised by the need of partial or total evacuation of the city. One other western centre, Calgary, also has been selected for the studies.

Former U.S. Atomic Chief Blasts Educational System

CHICAGO (UP) — Leslie R. Groves, wartime chief of the Manhattan atomic bomb program, said today that a U.S. educational system of "blind conformity" is losing the race with Russia to produce trained scientists.

At the same time he warned that Americans are becoming too "dangerously soft" to survive in the atomic age.

Groves said the nation is turning out 20,000 engineers a year with no increase in rate, while Russia is turning out 54,000 a year and is constantly increasing the rate.

W. Sutton Nominated To Building Board

W. Sutton has been named to Victoria building appeal board by the Victoria Building Industries Exchange. City council was informed Thursday. Mr. Sutton lives at 827 Oliver.

Policyholder Wm. T. Hamilton discusses Highlights of the 65th Annual Report with The Excelsior Life's President Major-General A. Bruce Matthews

★ Mr. Hamilton has been a policyholder since 1935 and now owns seven Excelsior Life Policies.

Mr. Hamilton: "Did The Excelsior Life have a good year?"
President Matthews: "Yes, indeed! Our new insurance totalled $53,266,717, which was $4,749,258 more than in the previous year. . . . And our insurance in Force has grown to $375,102,284 — which is an increase of $29,816,314 during 1954 . . ."

Mr. Hamilton: "What is the Company's financial position?"
President Matthews: "Stronger than ever! At the end of the year our assets had reached $73,827,115; our liabilities for policy reserves, etc., were $64,440,980, and our unallotted surplus and contingency reserve had increased to $3,066,031.42 . . ."

Mr. Hamilton: "How about the 1954 income?"
President Matthews: "Our premiums received were $9,611,576, while our income from investments, etc., was up to $3,331,582 — making an income total of $13,143,518 . . ."

Mr. Hamilton: "And what was done for your policyholders?"

President Matthews: "In direct payments we paid out over $3,869,806; $1,335,251 in death claims, plus $2,554,557 to living policyholders like yourself in maturities, dividends, annuity income, surrenders and similar benefits — as well as adding $4,853,507 to our policy reserves to provide increased protection for the larger volume of insurance in force."

Mr. Hamilton: "Mr. President, you have every reason to be proud of the 1954 progress of our good Company!"

EDDY GILMORE'S IMPRESSION

Zhukov a Man With a Smile, Hated Soviet Politicians

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Correspondent
The time was a late summer day right after the war. "The place was the Spasso House in Moscow. The man slouched in a deep leather chair was Gen. Eisenhower."

I remember asking the question: "What do you think of Zhukov?"
The general hesitated for a moment. He frowned slightly as he replied:
"Georgi is a very decent fellow."

American and British correspondents who covered the war from the Russian side had the same opinion of the broad-shouldered, square-jawed Soviet commander.
GIVE STRAIGHT ANSWER
A tough guy all right, but a man who could smile and a man who—like many other Red commanders—would give you a straight answer to a question.

"Do you think we could ever do business with Zhukov?" someone asked the supreme allied commander who was later to become president of the United States.
"Well, left on his own," said Eisenhower, "I believe I could do business with him."

That seemed to be a good endorsement of Georgi Zhukov, Russia's new minister of defense. It filled in with what I knew of this man who was a good soldier, but I'm afraid not too good a politician.
Eisenhower visited Moscow after the war as Zhukov's guest. He reviewed a sports parade atop Lenin's tomb with Zhukov and attended a football game with him at Dynamo Stadium.

I remember Zhukov sitting around a big table in Berlin shortly after the war. Eisenhower was across the table. Field Marshal Montgomery of Britain was down at one end. A French general whose name I can't remember was at the other.

NEEDED PROMPTING
Beside Zhukov sat the late Andrei Vishinsky, then Soviet deputy foreign minister. I stood just behind Zhukov and Vishinsky.

Eisenhower made a proposal. When he finished, Vishinsky poked Zhukov in the ribs with his thumb. Obeyingly, Zhukov got to his feet and recited a routine Soviet reaction to what Eisenhower had said.

Zhukov was still in the full light of oratory when Vishinsky suddenly grabbed him by the tail of his jacket and, with a yank, pulled him back into his seat.

"You've said enough," Vishinsky whispered to him in Russian.
I looked at Zhukov's broad, beefy neck. Perspiration stood out around it like a string of pale pearls.

Montgomery made a suggestion and once more Vishinsky poked Zhukov, who jumped to his feet again.

Later, we asked some of the high American and British officers about Zhukov at conferences.

"He's all very normal," said a British general, "except when he's got the devilish Soviet politicians around him. How he seems to hate them."

And how well another scene involving Zhukov comes back today.
Again it was Berlin, battered and broken after its capture by

ONE CHANCE IN MILLION ZHUKOV WILL VISIT IKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may invite Russia's Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov to visit him some day, but the experts are not betting on it.
One of the president's associates said he does not see "a chance in a million" for such an invitation. State Department officials label the whole question "premature."

the Red army hordes. Zhukov sat behind a long table and with a match box illustrated how he moved his tanks against the German army.

"I brought my tanks against them like this," he said, "and then I brought up two fresh artillery groups over here. And the infantry here."

A Western correspondent interrupted him:
"What part did Stalin play in all this operation?"
Zhukov looked stunned, as if someone had hit him with an axe. He began a recitation:

Controversy Rages in U.K. Over High Price of Tea

LONDON (Reuters) — A storm in a teacup blew up today about a pungent remark from Ceylon's premier, Sir John Kotelawala, concerning the price of Britain's favorite non-alcoholic beverage.

Sir John, whose country produces a great amount of Britain's imported tea, said Thursday the current retail price of tea is "damn ridiculous." Tea bought in Ceylon for the equivalent of 42 cents to 56 cents a pound, he said, sells here for about 98 cents.

The premier blamed the wide gap on the London tea market which buys in Ceylon and arranges for shipping and sale in Britain.

"No one can tell me it costs three shillings a pound to get to London," he said.

Sir John's remarks are on the front pages of every British newspaper. Tea traders raged against his statement and a member of parliament announced he would take the whole issue of tea prices to the House of Commons.

"Sir John got his prices wrong and has forgotten his own government's export duty," a spokesman said.

Sir John countered that he had included the duty.

Nationalists Quit Strategic Tachens

Tachen Islands beaches are deserted and demolition-seared today. Chinese Nationalists, protected by the mighty U.S. 7th Fleet, completed a bloodless withdrawal early this afternoon, Victoria time. Nothing has been left standing for Chou En-Lai's Communists, expected to filter into the strategic inshore islands immediately. In this NEA telephoto U.S.-built landing craft clutter the harbor as Chiang soldiers embark for Formosa.

PLEA FAILS—DEATH PENALTY STAYS

Chuter Ede Doubts Guilt Of Man He Sent to Hang

LONDON (UP)—The House of Commons voted Thursday night to continue capital punishment in Britain despite an emotional appeal by James Chuter Ede, who said he may have sent an innocent man to the gallows seven years ago.

Chuter Ede, schoolmaster, former leader of the House and Laborite home secretary, joined other Socialists in asking for a five-year period without capital punishment. But the House overrode his plea, 245 to 214.

The man Chuter Ede allowed to be hanged was Timothy Evans, 25, charged with murdering his wife and baby. He died for the second crime, but all Britain was filled with doubt when John Reginald Christie, the mass murderer of Nottingham Gate, confessed five years later he killed Mrs. Evans.

Filled With Doubt

Chuter Ede was one of those filled with doubt. He made it clear in the House of Commons when he recalled the hanging of Evans and the confession of Christie that she was one of six women he strangled and sealed in a wall of his house or buried under a flowering bush in his backyard.

"I was the home secretary who wrote on Evan's papers 'the law must take its course,'" Chuter Ede said as he began his plea for dropping the death penalty.

The usual bustle of the Chamber stopped. Members froze in their seats and papers stopped rattling.

"If ever there was a clear case when the papers came on to my table that a man was guilty, it was the case of Evans," he said.

Ona Munson Dies

NEW YORK (UP)—Ona Munson Berman, former motion and musical comedy star, was found dead in her West Side apartment by her husband today, apparently of an overdose of barbiturates, police reported.

Police said a note was found.

"Evans was found guilty of the murder of his infant daughter. He was charged at the same time with the murder of his wife, but since he had been found guilty on the first, the second case was never heard."

"He had protested that the man who had murdered his wife was the other man (Christie) living in the house. The evidence was overwhelmingly against Evans."

"But then, years afterward, six women's bodies were found in that house and the other man admitted to the murder of these six women."

He paused and drew a deep breath before he continued.

Facts Not Known

"If these facts had been known to the jury at the time they might perhaps have found Evans guilty of murder in conjunction with Christie. I doubt if they could have found Evans guilty in other circumstances."

His face flushed as he said:

"Today, I think that Evans' case shows, in spite of all that has been done, that a mistake was possible and that in the form in which the verdict was actually given in a particular case a mistake was made."

He hesitated after those words, "a mistake was made," and continued.

"I hope that no future home secretary, in office or after he has left office, will ever have to feel that although he did his best... that in fact he sent a man who was not guilty as charged to the gallows."

He sat down, face in hands.

South Africa Strike Call Defies Lash

Stoppage Protests Slum Clearance

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—A call went out today to Johannesburg's native Africans to strike against the South African government's latest segregation scheme. Chances of success are problematical.

The African National Congress dispatched runners to the city's slums, calling non-whites to walk off their jobs Saturday or Monday. The strikes were called to protest the government's forced movement of Negroes from their homes in West Johannesburg to selected non-white areas outside the city.

A successful strike could paralyze Johannesburg, where the Negro population does most of the work in factories, shops and homes. But South Africa's racial laws provide heavy penalties, including the lash, for Negroes found guilty of striking.

HARVEY MATUSOW... false witness.

Perjurer Says He Was Puppet In Cohn's Hands

'Conjecture' Fed To Time Magazine

NEW YORK (UP)—Former Communist Harvey Matusow told a Federal Court today he was so anxious to be a government witness against Communists that he "dreamt up" false statements "as a selling point" for his own services.

Matusow, testifying on behalf of a new trial motion for 13 convicted second-string Communist leaders against whom he has sworn he testified falsely, said today that most of the statements he had attributed to the defendants were complete fabrications.

Matusow said Thursday that he had been a puppet in the hands of Roy Cohn, a former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and who was then an assistant United States attorney.

Matusow also said he lied when he charged that 126 employees of the New York Times were affiliated with Communists.

Matusow said the persons he named as Communists in Time magazine was "based on conjecture and surmise on my part."

Eden Sparks Moscow Drive For Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS (UP)—The United Nations Security Council will resume on Monday its efforts to obtain a Formosa cease-fire.

LONDON (UP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden met with India's Jawaharlal Nehru today and it was reported they agreed to seek in Moscow new contacts aimed at reaching a Formosan truce.

The foreign secretary also saw U.S. Ambassador Winthrop C. Aldrich for nearly two hours. Informed sources said Eden and Aldrich discussed the possibility of the Nationalist Chinese evacuating all the coastal islands off the China mainland to create a climate in which some form of conference on Formosa could be held.

The conferences were arranged soon after Eden emerged from the third Churchill cabinet meeting in 72 hours.

Prime Minister Churchill is reported to have reaffirmed Britain's firm belief that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek must be persuaded to withdraw from all the Nationalist inshore islands, including Quemoy and Matsui.

18-Year-Old Dies In Electric Chair For Killing Woman

OSHSING, N.Y. (UP)—An 18-year-old boy died in Sing Sing prison's electric chair Thursday night for the slaying of an elderly East Side woman.

Henry Matthews was led trembling into the death chamber and strapped into the chair at 11 p.m. He was silent throughout the proceedings. He was pronounced dead three minutes later.

Matthews was one of three youths convicted of slaying 83-year-old Mrs. Anna Levy, in June, 1953. Gov. Averell Harriman commuted sentence of Concepcion Correa, 19, and Stanley Antonio Rios, 22, to let him submit to sanity tests.

Gale-Swept Fleet Sails for Formosa

ABOARD USS ESTES, OFF TACHENS (AP)—The last Chinese Nationalist soldiers boarded ships off the Tachen beaches at 11.10 p.m., tonight (7.10 a.m., PST), to complete the evacuation of the islands.

Red China did not interfere in the four-day operation. The seared Tachens were evacuated in little more than half of the eight days scheduled for the operation.

Earlier today Chinese Nationalist soldiers dynamited and put the torch to trenches, pill boxes and buildings.

February gale winds which had slowed the withdrawal to a crawl died down in midday. But ships of the great evacuation armada still pitched and rolled at anchor off the islands as the last Nationalist troops, guns and equipment were loaded.

The whole armada, including the protective warships, now is sailing together on the 200-mile trip to Formosa.

U.S. carriers and pilots have shifted their jet and propeller-driven air umbrella from the Tachens to the ocean lanes to Formosa.

SPECIAL MISSION
The carrier Princeton, especially adapted for anti-submarine warfare, has been assigned a special protective mission as the evacuation heads for Formosa.

NEW CLASH IN CHINA AIR ANGERS REDS

LONDON (AP)—Peiping radio said tonight Red Chinese planes drove off four American Sabre jets near the north-east China coast this morning.

It said the American planes "flew away" and implied no shots were fired.

The broadcast charged: "American authorities now are intensifying their war provocations against the Chinese people."

Washington reached Taipei today with 1,185 Nationalist troops, the vanguard of Chiang Kai-shek's American-trained 46th Division, and 520 tons of ammunition.

With the Tachen withdrawal completed, a story appears to be brewing over the future of Nanchishan, Nationalist island 80 miles to the south.

The Nationalists made clear today that they intend to hold it, whether or not the U.S. helps.

What Next? Peiping Appears Sure That It Can't Lose

By JAMES D. WHITE
What next after the Tachens? Red China has the initiative. Peiping has many choices. It can sit tight and see what happens. It can pick off more offshore islands—piecemeal—from Nanchishan to Quemoy. It can blow the works and go after Formosa.

What are the main factors that may determine Peiping's strategy? My Asian friends assure me of two things which may be of supreme importance.

One is the Chinese conviction that any war with the U.S. would involve the use of atomic and possible hydrogen weapons against them.

The other is an equally firm Chinese conviction that they, if anyone, can emerge from such a war. They figure it this way: Their treaty with Russia guarantees Soviet involvement in such a war. Russia and the U.S. then would destroy each other's war-making powers.

China, with her 600,000,000 people and experience in survival, would emerge if anyone did.

The other side of the coin is this question: What if war does not develop?

In that case the Chinese can go on as they are, exerting pressure in all directions—including against Russia—to further their own ends.

This may mean, among other things, that the Chinese are not to be bought off with United Nations membership and diplomatic recognition. The time to have extended these favors, if ever, was while they still were favors—five years ago when China was weak and needed them and before she had attacked herself inseparably to Russia.

Pflimlin Goes Before Assembly

PARIS (Reuters)—Pierre Pflimlin today decided to go before the National Assembly and ask it to approve him as premier, succeeding Pierre Mendes-France who was ousted last Saturday.

Pflimlin, a member of the Catholic Mouvement Republicain Populaire, announced his decision through a spokesman before giving his official acceptance to President Rene Coty.

He is expected to present his new cabinet to the assembly for approval Monday or Tuesday.

His decision came after a day of talks with party leaders and it was made in spite of refusal of the powerful Socialist group to support him.

Russ Oust 6 Judges Of Supreme Court

Seven New Members Appointed To Soviet's Highest Judicial Body

LONDON (Reuters)—Six members of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union have been relieved of their posts by Supreme Soviet decree, Moscow radio announced today.

The radio gave their names as I. V. Fetistov, Leonid Dimitriyev, Ivan Zariandv, Pavel Kolesov, Ivan Maulevich and Panteley Pavlenko.

The decree of the Supreme Soviet was dated Feb. 7. At the same time it appointed seven new members of the supreme court.

The decree was approved by the Supreme Soviet during its six-day session which adjourned Wednesday after approving the appointment of Marshal Nikolai Bulganin to replace Georgi Malenkov as premier.

The Soviet Union's supreme court has more than 70 members and 35 "people's assessors" under its president.

The present court was elected for a five-year term by the Supreme Soviet in March, 1951.

Laurenti Beria, former minister of the interior who was executed as a traitor in 1953, stood trial before the court. Russia's leading legal minds and most prominent judges and jurists make up its membership. Under the constitution, the

SHIPS CRASH IN NEW YORK HARBOR FOG

NEW YORK (UP)—The inbound British freighter City of Bristol and the outbound American President Lines freighter President Harding collided in rain and fog at the entrance to New York Harbor today.

Inbound from Bombay with 115 men aboard, City of Bristol reported later she was holed but was making her way into harbor.

The President Harding, damaged only slightly, continued to Norfolk, Va., en route to the Far East.

KELOWNA MAIL CARRIER HELD AFTER STABBING

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A federal civil servant from Vancouver is recovering slowly and a Kelowna mail carrier charged with wounding today following a stabbing affray early Thursday.

In hospital is Alex Cyril Ogden, who was held by police for several hours before the serious wound in his abdomen was discovered.

Charged with wounding Ogden is James Lawrence Branniff, in whose home the argument that apparently led to the stabbing took place.

Ogden was booked on charges of intoxication following the argument, and the wound was not discovered until shortly before 9 a.m.

Ogden is attached to the army for audit purposes, and had been checking the army books at Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton camps.

West Van. Wins Cut On All Home Values

10 Per Cent Reduction Will Slash Roll by an Estimated $3.2 Million

West Vancouver Wednesday appealed its entire 1955 assessment on homes in its own court of revision. Today the municipality is deep in discussion on whether to seek a similar cut on lands and buildings.

It had asked for a 10 per cent reduction on its assessment of dwellings-only, which was granted when municipal assessor James Y. Gardner showed that West Vancouver's assessments were "not comparable" with those of other mainland areas.

He told the court that he was forced to increase his assessment Equalization Act, and that he had "overshot" his tabulations.

The reduction will mean a cut of about $3,200,000 in the roll. It was stipulated by the three-man government appointed court that the reduction will become effective only after all individual appeals have been reviewed. To date, 92 of 264 private appeals have been considered.

PICARD INSANE COUNSEL SAYS

MONTREAL—Lawyers here today claimed "obscure laws" killed pint-sized Lucien Picard, executed at 12.30 a.m. for this city's "most repulsive" murder. (See story page 27.)

Picard's counsel Arnold Danseman said, "I am convinced he was completely out of his mind," when he killed a six-year-old boy and hid the carved-up body in cartons and suitcases. Picard was adjudged sane and fit to stand trial.

M' Uncle Zeke hez a pay-as-you-go policy, too. When he gits his pay, you should see it go.

Blainey Guilty of Manslaughter

VANCOUVER (UP)—An Assize Court jury today found Thomas Blainey, 39, guilty of manslaughter in the death of his four-year-old nephew, Ernest.

The tot was shot to death at Blainey's home at Okeover Arm, near Powell River, Oct. 27 last.

$50,000 Fire at Rossland

ROSSLAND (BUP)—Firemen battled smoke and flames for three hours today to quell a fire in the downtown business section which gutted a large retail building.

Damage in the fire was estimated at $50,000.

The fire burned through the basement and rear of a cement building housing Wright's meat market, the Clarendon cigar store and a pool hall.

CBC Accused of Strike-Breaking

OTTAWA (CP)—Timothy J. O'Sullivan, head negotiator for the technicians' union threatening a strike against the CBC, charged today that the corporation is conniving with another union to break his organization's possible strike.

Lawyer Jailed in Alleged Baby Racket

MONTREAL (CP)—A Montreal lawyer today was sentenced to one day in jail and fined $2,000 after pleading guilty to four charges of inciting falsification of birth certificates in connection with an alleged international baby racket a year ago.

In sentencing Herman Buller, Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure said the 40-year-old lawyer has already been severely punished by publicity and would likely be punished further by the Montreal bar.

Arrest Made in $27,786 Theft

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Manitoba college student has been arrested in Texas and a young Winnipeg mother is being sought in connection with the theft of a $27,786 cheque Jan. 31 from a Winnipeg law firm, city police said today.

They said Gerald Lloyd Medland, 23, of Killarney, Man., fourth-year science student at United College here, was arrested Thursday in Fort Worth, Texas, on charges of forgery and uttering.

Sugar Ray Signs for 2 More Fights

NEW YORK (BUP)—Sugar Ray Robinson's determination to continue his comeback campaign was disclosed today when his handlers announced two fights.

Robinson, former middleweight and welterweight champion, will meet middle Joe Arthur of Louisville, Ky., at Akron, O., March 3, and Johnny Lombardo of Mt. Carmel, Pa., at Cincinnati, March 15.

Victoria Rink Loses Again;
Avery of Vancouver Unbeaten

KAMLOOPS (BUP)—The three undefeated rinks in the B.C. curling championships came through the fifth round unscathed today in the battle to represent the province at the Macdonald Brier.

Frank Avery's Vancouver rink—only undefeated "B" division squad—handed the Clarence Larsen rink of Chilliwack its fifth straight loss, 11-6.

TACHENS CLEARED

Fleet Sails
For Formosa

ABOARD USS ESTES, OFF TACHENS (AP)—The last Chinese Nationalist soldiers boarded ships off the Tachen beaches at 11.10 p.m., tonight (7.10 a.m., PST), to complete the evacuation of the islands.

Red China did not interfere in the four-day operation. The seared Tachens were evacuated in little more than half of the eight days scheduled for the operation.

February gale winds which had slowed the withdrawal to a crawl died down in midday. But ships of the great evacuation armada still pitched and rolled at anchor off the islands as the last Nationalist troops, guns and equipment were loaded.

The whole armada, including the protective warships, now is sailing together on the 200-mile trip to Formosa.

U.S. carriers and pilots have shifted their jet and propeller-driven air umbrella from the Tachens to the ocean lanes to Formosa.

SPECIAL MISSION
The carrier Princeton, especially adapted for anti-submarine warfare, has been assigned a special protective mission as the evacuation heads for Formosa.

The U.S. attack transport Washburn reached Taipei today with 1,185 Nationalist troops, the vanguard of Chiang Kai-shek's American-trained 46th Division, and 520 tons of ammunition.

With the Tachen withdrawal completed, a story appears to be brewing over the future of Nachishan, Nationalist island 80 miles to the south.

The Nationalists made clear today that they intend to hold it, whether or not the U.S. helps.

DIES IN B.C. FIRE
GIBSONS, B.C. (CP)—William Henry Cooley, 85, was killed here Thursday night when fire destroyed his tiny cabin.

The Soviet Union's supreme court has more than 70 members and 35 "people's assessors" under its president.

The present court was elected for a five-year term by the Supreme Soviet in March, 1951. Lavrenti Beria, former minister of the interior who was executed as a traitor in 1953, stood trial before the court.

Russia's leading legal minds and most prominent judges and jurists make up its membership. Under the constitution, the courts are described as independent and subject only to the law, but judges may be released from their offices and people's assessors from their duties if recalled by their electors or on the strength of a court verdict against them.

THE DECREE OF THE SUPREME SOVIET was dated Feb. 7. At the same time it appointed seven new members of the supreme court.

The decree was approved by the Supreme Soviet during its six-day session which adjourned Wednesday after approving the appointment of Marshal Nikolai Bulganin to replace Georgi Malenkov as premier.

Seven New Members Appointed
To Soviet's Highest Judicial Body

LONDON (Reuters)—Six members of the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union have been relieved of their posts by Supreme Soviet decree, Moscow radio announced today.

The radio gave their names as I. V. Fetistov, Leonid Dimitriyev, Ivan Zariyev, Pavel Kolesov, Ivan Maulevich and Panteley Pavlenko.

The decree of the Supreme Soviet was dated Feb. 7. At the same time it appointed seven new members of the supreme court.

Natives Dare Lash
To Oppose Policy
Of Segregation

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—A call went out today to Johannesburg's native Africans to strike against the South African government's latest segregation scheme.

The African National Congress dispatched runners to the city's slums, calling non-whites to walk off their jobs Saturday or Monday. The strikes were called to protest the government's forced movement of Negroes from their homes in West Johannesburg to selected non-white areas outside the city.

A successful strike could paralyze Johannesburg, where the Negro population does most of the work in factories, shops and homes. But South Africa's racial laws provide heavy penalties, including the lash, for Negroes found guilty of striking.
